THE DEMOCRATS CONCEDE DEFEAT

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 7.—Frank S. Katzenbach, jr., democratic candidate for governor of New Jersey, concedes the election of John Franklin Fort, his republican opponent, by 7,000 votes, and made the following statement:

"From the somewhat incomplete returns furnished, I believe that Judge Fort has been elected. I have sent him my congratulations. I greatly appreciate the support given me and the efforts of my friends in my behalf."

Late returns do not change the complexion of the state senate, which gives the republicans 14 to 7 for the democrats. It was believed until late yesterday that the state's vote was very close, with Katzenbach leading. The predictions were for a democratic victory by several thousand votes.

Mr. Katzenbach ran on a reform ticket. The republicans were accused of being influenced by the railroads and big corporations and many charges of graft were made. While defeated by 7,000 majority Mr. Katzenbach on the reform ticket cut the republican majority from 51,090 votes for governor in the last election.

Rhode Island Figures Grow.

Providence, Nov. 7—The democrats carried Rhode Island by a greater majority than was anticipated. It was reported yesterday afternoon that James H. Higgins' majority for governor was 2,307, but later reports show that this will be increased.

It developed later that Senator George Peabody Wetmore will have more opposition in his return to the senate than was at first believed, but the fact that both branches of the legislature are so strongly republican indicates that his election is almost certain.

Delaware Only Half "Dry."

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 7.—The vote on the liquor question in the four districts of the state shows that there was a majority in the state as a whole for license of from 2,000 to 2,200, but the actual result is that license prevails in two districts and prohibition in the other two.

The license districts are the city of Wilmington, with a population of about 90,990 and about 250 bars, and Rural New Castle county, with a population of about 4,000 and about thirty drinking places.

The prohibition districts are Kent county, with a population of 35,000 and about twenty drinking bars, and Sussex county, with 40,000 population and about twenty-five drinking bars.

Now for 3-Cent Action.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 7.—The full significance of the election of Tom Johnson over Congressman Theodore E. Burton for mayor was realized fully yesterday.

The mayor is now in absolute control of every branch of the city government. He carries through with him twenty-five of the thirty-two councilmen, which makes it unnecessary to dicker with republican members of the city council for support. The latest figures give Johnson 48,399, Burton 39,026

The people of Cleveland felt yesterday the full effect of Johnson's victory when the Cleveland electric railway stopped the sale of tickets at the rate of seven for twenty-five cents, resuming the old rate of eleven for fifty cents.

A number of franchises of the Cleveland electric expire within the near future and as the routes are given up it will be the policy of Mayor Johnson and the city council to grant franchises to the 3-cent fare lines.

Gave a Luncheon Today.

In honor of Rev. Charles Ferguson, of Kansas City, who is to read the paper at the Nehemgar club tonight, Prof. G. V. Buchanan and wife entertained Rev. Ferguson, Rev. and Mrs. S. S. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Combs at a luncheon this afternoon.

Will Initiate a Class

At tomorrow night's meeting of Fidelity council No. 53, K. and L. of S., the exemplification of the new ritual and degree work will be given, after which a social session is to be held. A large class is also to be initiated during the meeting.

Will Attend a Funeral.

The remains of T. C. Franklin, of Houstonia, who died at Springfield, Mo., yesterday, were shipped through here today to Houstonia, where interment will be made tomorrow afternoon. County Clerk M. L. Imhoff, a relative, and wife, will attend the funeral.

JOHN T. COLLINS TO WED

CEREMONY WILL BE NEXT TUESDAY

Miss Maybelle Thompson Is the Bride-to-Be—Comes to Sedalia to Make Her Home After a Brief Honeymoon Trip.

John T. Collins, one of the proprietors of the Collins' Furniture Co.'s business, will be united in marriage to Miss Maybelle Thompson, daughter of I. N. Thompson, a prominent farmer of Greenwood, Mo., and wife, at the home of the bride-to-be at high noon on Tuesday, November 12.

Rev. J. W. Hickerson, a Baptist minister from Liberty, Mo., will perform the ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few friends.

Mr. Rice Miller, of Platte City, Mo., will play the wedding march, while Miss Fredonia Huston will sing, "If Thou Couldst Know."

Mr. Collins is a business man of the very best type and is of pleasing personality. Since being engaged in the furniture business here he has made hundreds of friends, and all will take pleasure in extending congratulations.

His bride-to-be is said to be a sweet and loveable young lady, one of Greenwood's most popular girls, a member of one of Jackson county's leading families, and the Democrat-Sentinel joins in extending congratulations in anticipation of the happy event.

NO RED LIGHTS SHOWN

Complaint is made by members of the First Congregational church of the manner in which the alley in the rear of the church where paving is being done, is left unguarded at night.

Tuesday night several ladies who had attended church were returning home. There were no lights at the alley, signifying the danger, and all fell into the opening. None was injured, however, but precautions should be taken by the contractor to prevent like mishaps.

Paid $1 for License.

Thomas F. Gray, clerk at the postoffice, who went on record months ago to the effect that he would pay for the license when Walter Kennedy, stamp clerk at the postoffice, got married, today received a bill for $1 from County Recorder Morey and promptly cracked down that amount.

Been Ill Since September 1.

E. D. Bosserman, who since September 1 has been bedfast with typhoid fever, is up town today, shaking hands with his many friends. Mr. Bosserman has had a long siege, and is still quite weak, but is improving very satisfactorily.

Will Play Football Saturday.

The football eleven of George R. Smith college and that of the Lincoln High school will buck each other on the gridiron at Liberty park Saturday afternoon.

BECKHAM MAY LOSE OUT

A PECULIAR SITUTATION EXISTS

Finley and Taylor May Now Return to Kentucky to Face Charges in the Governor Goebel Murder Case.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 7.—The landslide in Kentucky politics Tuesday, which swept the democratic ticket and office holders completely off the political map, also forbodes defeat for Governor J. C. W. Bechham in his fight to succeed United States Senator James B. McCreary.

The incomplete returns indicate that the democrats will have a small majority, from six to eight, on joint ballot, in the next general assembly, and it is on this that Governor Beckham relies to send him to the senate, But before this has been accomplished it is evident that the governor will have to consider some of the defeated candidates on the state ticket, who lay their downfall to the attitude of the governor, and openly boast that he will not go to the senate, but that, on the contrary, when he steps down and out for his successor, August E. Wilson, on Dec. 2, he will then and there retire to private life.

The returns from many of the counties throughout the state show that where Judge Harger, the democratic candidate for governor, got a majority, the republican candidate for th legislature was elected, and the defeated democrats say this was an open rebuke to the governor by the people, who voted to elect a republican legislator in order to defeat the governor's candidacy for the senate.

While all of the defeated candidates do not lay the blame of defeat to the governor, a majority of them believe it was his attitude on various questions that cost them the state.

One thing in particular which causes bitterness for the governor is the attitude of Beckham toward Henry Watterson, which resulted in his paper remaining entirely out of the fight during the campaign, and it is said this resulted in a loss of 20,000 votes for the democratic ticket.

This was the first political campaign ever fought in Kentucky when Editor Watterson and his paper were not fighting hard for the success of the democratic ticket, but this year there was never a word from the pen of Watterson on the campaign, all of which, democrats say, was due to the bitterness of Mr. Waterson for Governor Beckham.

One reason assigned for the defeat of the democratic ticket by the rank and file democrats who supported Wilson and the republican ticket is the fact that Wilson promised the people of Kentucky to have W. S. Taylor and Charles Finlay brought back from Indiana and tried for the alleged muder of William Goebel.

The people of Kentucky are anxious to have this question settled, once and for all, and as it was apparent that the democrats now in power proposed to continue to ride into office on the Goebel killing, the people turned to the republican party to relieve them of the trials.

Mr. Wilson has promised to return the fugitives on requisition, if they refuse to come back voluntarily, and he further promised to give them fair and speedy trials, and allow the verdicts to stand if they are affirmed by the appellate court.

The fourth trial of Caleb Powers will begin at Georgetown next Monday, and will be presided over by Judge John S. Morris, appointee of Governor Beckham. Powers said last night that he did not look for any assistance from Governor-elect Wilson, but that he would be able to pove his innocence in a fair trial before an impartial jury.

Will Return to Kentucky.

Indianapolis, Nov. 7.—Friends of W. S. Taylor and Charles Finlay who are in a position to know, assert that Taylor and Finlay will return to Kentucky.

Taylor and Finlay did not retire until 2 a. m. Wednesday, when they were assured by long distance telephone by the chairman of the republican state committee at Louisville that Kentucky is absolutely "safe."

Ex-Governor Taylor wrote out this statement for the United Press:

"The result in Kentucky is a very benediction for a long suffering people. It signifies the triumph of a sentiment that runs far deeper than ordinary politics. Truth, love, justice and mercy are victors over hate, force and fraud. The night has been long and dark, but the day has dawned at last. Words cannot express my deep sense of gratitude.

Killed 22 Squirrels.

Police Officer W. F. Farmer spent yesterday hunting with James Lackey, a well known resident of Clifton City, and returned home last night with fifteen squirrels, having left eight at Mr. Lackey's home. He had an excellent trip, so he says, and enjoyed the expedition very much.

OFFICES WERE CROWDED

WESTERN UNION HEADUARTERS SWAMPED WITH RETURNING OPERATORS.

PRES. CLOWRY MAKES STATEMENT

Says There Is No Truce Between the Company and Union—Operators Are Employed Only as Individuals.

New York, Nov. 7.—President Clowry, of the Western Union, in a statement made this morning, said that the assertion made by officers of the Telegraphers' union that a truce agreement had been entered into between the telegraph company and the strikers was absolutely untrue and said also that the returning strikers would only be re-employed on their individual application, and that but a small percentage of them can be given employment.

Following the official calling off of the strike by the local union the office of the Western Union has been crowded with applicants who today sought to regain their old positions. None were accepted, the company, according to its statement, having brought its force up to the original quota. By 10 o'clock this morning the waiting list was full and no more names were taken.

SET THE PRAIRIE ON FIRE

A fire on the premises of Mr. Jenkins, at Twenty-fourth and Engineer avenue, at 1 o'clock this afternoon, threatened to do considerable damage, but after prompt and good work the blaze was confined to a certain territory, and only about $25 damage resulted.

Mr. Jenkins, who owns a stone quarry in the locality mentioned, started a fire to burn dead grass. The blaze got beyond his control and spread to the premises of G. F. Conser, on which 100 stands of bees are located. A small-sized vineyard, some fruit trees and other trees were burned by the fire, but those helping to extinguish it did so before it reached the hives.

DEATH OF MISS DOBEL

Sister of Patrick Dobel Died at Aurora, Indiana.

Miss Julia Dobel, a sister of Patrick Dobel, of this city, and who visited here several years ago, making numerous friends while in Sedalia died of yellow jaundice at her home at Aurora, Ind., this morning, aged 50 years, after an illness of about a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Dobel and son, Walter, were called to Aurora last week, but as the patient did not improve they remained at her bedside, being with her to the last. Burial will be made at Aurora.

Will Be Wedding Guests.

Will Entertain at Rink.

Mrs. C. B. Ogle will entertain a number of friends at the Liberty park skating rink at 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon of Thursday, November 14.

OBSCENE POSTAL CARDS

SENTENCE FALLS ON L. S. VAN HOOK

J. A. Blair and A. P. Miller, Who Sold Medicine to Women, Fare in a Similar Manner in Kansas City Court.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 7.—L. S. VanHook, Joseph A. Blair and A. P. Miller were yesterday sentenced by United States Judge Smith McPherson to a year and a day in the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth. Van Hook for selling obscene postal cards and the other two for using the mails to sell prescribed medicines to women. The effect of the sentence was to stun the prisoners, who had been prepared to expect the usual fine of $50 and costs.

Miller's wife and little daughter sat by him at the time the punishment was fixed, and all were transfixed with amazement. Judge McPherson was most severe in his summing up, taxed the costs against the prisoners, remanded them to the custody of the United States marshal and prevented their getting a respite to wind up their affairs. They had all pleaded guilty and so were beyond the pale of appeal or bond. A. H. Coyle, indicted with Miller and Blair for the illicit medicine trade, had pleaded guilty and had got off with a light fine.

After Blair had been examined by the judge himself for ten or fifteen minutes a tall old man who said he was Postoffice Inspector McAfee rose to tell what he knew about VanHook. McAfee draws a salary of $1 a year from the government, but something more substantial from a Boston Society for the Prevention of Vice. The Boston man had run VanHook to ground in Kansas City and he told the judge about some of the postals. VanHook asserted that he had not sent out any.

"I had just bought them," he said.

In summing up Judge McPherson said:

"This is a dirty, mean and abominable business. Mail comes to the parlor table and it is opened by women clerks in our offices. There is not a school child that has not access to this federal department of the postoffice. Yet here comes a man like this man VanHook and makes the mail an affliction. No man outside of an insane asylum or a repository for idiots but knows that the action of selling obscene postal cards or other pictures is indefensible. As for this other business, the medicine business, it is as filthy. The plea of ignorance is totally lost, because these men were not ignorant."

CRUSHED HIS SKULL

A young boy, the son of George O. Whitfield, who lives on the Clem Jones farm, 1½ miles south of Longwood, was kicked by a mule and quite badly hurt Wednesday.

Dr. J. E. Mitchell, of Lookout, was called, and later Dr. W. S. Shirk was 'phoned for and drove out, reaching the home at 9 o'clock.

Upon his return he stated that the boy's skull was crushed and pressed down upon the brain, but the patient regained consciousness after an operation and hope of recovery is entertained.

No Indictments Yet.

Up to 4 o'clock this afternoon, when the the Democrat-Sentinel went to press, not a single indictment had been returned to the grand jury, and no information was obtainable as to when the body would adjourn.

Many witnesses have been examined, and many rumors are afloat, but they all lack corroboration.

Criminal Court Doings.

Licensed to Wed.

Dealers Can Sell Quail.

Some of the Sedalia dealers appear to labor under the belief that under the new game law they are not permitted to sell quail. This is an error. During the open season the law permits the sale of quail killed in the county, but prohibits the sale of this class of game that is shipped in from outside the county.

Will Entertain the Ladies.

The members of the Young Men's Catholic league will entertain their lady friends at the school hall tonight. There is no set program, but the time will be pleasantly spent in bowling, billiards and other amusements.

RUMOR IS VERY FOOLISH

THAT IN REGARD TO DISCOUNTING CHECKS OF RAILWAY EMPLOYES.

IT HAS NO FOUNDATION IN FACT

How It Originated Is Not Known, but Local Bankers Say the Story Was Manufactured Out of Whole Cloth.

A rumor, started no one knows how, was on the streets this morning that the checks of the railroads would not be honored at the local banks for their full face value the coming pay days. The rumor is absolutely false and is without the slightest foundation.

The Sedalia banks are now arranging to care for the pay roll's and checks will be honored for their full face value, either by merchants in payment of accounts or for purchases, or the banks and trust company for deposit.

No one need have an apprehension that their wages will be discounted or that they will not be able to use their funds as they please. The pay check will in fact be just as good as gold coin and pass current with just as much ease.

CASE OF PICKPOCKETS

They Have Not Much to Fear in Pettis County.

In the criminal court, late Wednesday afternoon, George Davis and John Newman, pickpockets, who were arrested here during state fair week, were arraigned for trial, being represented by Attorney Higdon.

The defendants withdrew their pleas of not guilty and pleaded guilty to petit larceny. Judge Hoffman, on the recommendation of Prosecuting Attorney Dow, sentenced each to six months in the county jail, and also imposed a fine of $1 and all costs accruing in the case.

John Rocco, the "Little Jew," another pickpocket, represented by W. D. Steele, likewise withdrew his plea of not guilty to robbery and pleaded guilty to petit larceny. On recommendation of Prosecutor Dow, Judge Hoffman fined Rocco $1 and costs and sentenced him to three months in the county jail.

At the solicitation of Mr. Steele, the defendant was paroled on promise to leave the county, never to return.

Woman Gets $5,000 Damages.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 7.—It will cost Kansas City $5,000 and costs because a coal hole was left open upon one of the pavements some four years ago. This bit of municipal carelessness caused Ella Smart to fall and severely injure herself. Twice the case has been to the supreme court. In an opinion Wednesday, filed in the supreme court in banc, Judge Woodson affirms the judgment of the lower courts, giving the woman $5,000.

Jesse White Acquitted.

Jesse White, who several months ago was arrested, charged with assault with intent to kill, was acquitted by a jury in the Pettis county criminal court today, following instructions issued by Judge Hoffman. Attorneys Lynch and O'Bannon represented the defendant.

Good Attendance at a Dance.

A CIVIL SERVICE CROWD

THE TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL SESSION OF NATIONAL REFORM LEAGUE.

REPORTS FROM THE BIG CITIES

Officers for the Ensuing Year Will Be Elected Tomorrow—Some of the Topics That Will Be Discussed.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 7.—With an address of welcome by Mayor Adam, of Buffalo, and a response by Daniel Coit Gilman, the twenty-seventh annual meeting of the National Civil Service Reform league was opened here this morning.

Richard Henry Dana, chairman of the council, read the report of the latter body. Reports from all the big cities in the United States were presented.

It is likely that recommendations will be made by the convention looking towards reforms in the consular and Philippines offices.

This evening's program includes addresses by Dr. Gilman, president of the league, Attorney General Bonaparte and Governor Hughes, of New York.

At tomorrow's session the officers for the ensuing year will be elected during the morning. In the afternoon William Dudley Foulke, of Indiana, will talk on "Restriction of the Political Activity of Office-Holders."

John L. O'Brien, of this city, will speak on "Competitive Examinations for Legal Positions," and Fullerton L. Waldo, secretary of the Pennsylvania Civil Service Reform association, will tell about "Civil Service Reform in Philadelphia."

The convention will close with a banquet in the Ellicott club tomorrow night, and on Saturday the delegates will make a trip to Niagara Falls.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE

This Was What June Harris Compared Bob Combs' Cigar To.

June Harris and "Bob" Combs, two of Sedalia's wittiest drummers, were preparing to board Katy train No. 3 this morning, bound for southern points.

"Bob" was just putting the finishing touches to a cigar, which had been consumed to such a degree as to burn a man's fingers if he tried to hold it any longer.

Looking up at June he remarked, "Here, hold this until I get on the train, June."

June, who is always equal to the emergency in such cases, suddenly regained that sober and ministerial look, and, sizing up the crowd, replied, "No, sir; not for me. It looks like an infernal machine. You don't hand me anything like that."

Amid the laughter of all in the vicinity June calmly walked away, while "Bob" pitched the cigar out under the train.

WILL INSPECT DIVISION

Engineers Wives Will Have Banquet at Mrs. Goodwin's.

An inspection of Enterprise division No. 15, ladies' auxiliary to the B. of L. E., will be held at the I. O. O. F. hall in this city Saturday, the work to be in charge of Mrs. Carrie B. Downs, inspector, of Parsons, Kas.

Tomorrow night a banquet for members of the auxiliary will be given at the home of Mrs. C. W. Goodwin, on West Third street, and at the noon hour Saturday the ladies will dine at Le Grande hotel.

Still in Real Estate Business.

Mr. Emil Landmann, who has disposed of his insurance business to Frank P. Baird, will continue in the real estate, loan and rental business in addition to his abstract work.

Committee Meets Tonight.

The entertainment committee of the Knights of Father Mathew will meet at the Antlers' hotel at 8 o'clock tonight to perfect arrangements for an entertainment on November 21.

School Board Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Sedalia school board will be held tomorrow night.

INTERIOR BANKS HELP THE CENTERS.

The Daily Banker, published in New York has the following to say regarding the action taken by group No. 5 of the Missouri Bankers' association in Sedalia recently:

There has been some talk that interior bankers are complaining of the impossibility of obtaining currency on their reserve balances in the centers. We doubt whether the complaints are very serious. It was natural when the trouble began for many interior bankers to make an attempt to enlarge their home reserves. They feared that the runs which made such havoc in New York would presently be directed against themselves. But when cash payments were practically suspended in New York and Chicago many of the interior bankers took the same measures to protect their interests, and the suspensions being so prompt throughout the country, the depositors felt that every one being about on the same footing, common sense suggested waiting for the situation to resume its normal condition. The interior banker is in much better position today than he was in 1893. Then the west and south were impoverished, and the little surplus on deposit loomed to enormous magnitude when the banking difficulties commenced. Today the country banks' clientage represents a more substantial community, largely free from debt and well capitalized. Therefore, the fear of the safety of the banks is not nearly so disturbing as it was in 1893. But the interior banker has also a better grasp of the meaning of the famine in cash and is more ready to assist in ameliorating its consequences. This is strikingly shown in the broadminded resolution adopted by group 5 of the Missouri Bankers' association. This resolution will be found in our news columns, and it will be read with appreciation by city bankers everywhere. It is such evidence as this which makes us give but little credence to the complaints referred to in the foregoing. The bankers of the country should everywhere stand together against an unreasoning impulse to take cash out of the banks on the sole impulse to hide it away.

UNDERMINING THE TARIFF.

It is a little over six years since President McKinley in the last speech of his life told his countrymen that the day of exclusiveness was past, and warned them that they could not go on forever selling without buying. Had he lived, says Collier's Weekly, we should have probably had tariff reform in 1902. President Roosevelt promised to carry out the McKinley promises, but other things absorbed his attention and the tariff has been allowed to wait. But the signs are multiplying that reform can not be put off much longer. The translation of Mr. Shaw from the cabinet to Wall street has removed one active obstructionist, and the atmosphere about the president has been further liberalized by the action of Secretaary Strauss.

When Mr. Strauss found the cotton manufacturers of the country, all within his reach at the same time in their nationaal convention in Washington, he took advantage of the opportunity to tell them some plain truths. He reminded them of McKinley's warnings. "If you build your tariff wall too high in this country," he said, "you will encourage high walls on the other side, which are known by the names of discriminating duties. We are striking that wall now."

The process of breaking up the trusts by civil suits and criminal prosecutions is long, arduous and doubtful in results. The process of rendering them harmless by depriving them of the privilege of oppression that the tariff gives them is swift and certain.

With a little more experience even President Roosevelt may outgrow his curious idea that the tariff and the trusts have no connection.

John Rockefeller is said to have got his start as a poor clothing clerk. Just think how much further he might be if he had started as a good clerk. Alas! There doubtless were no correspondence schools in those days!

A London hotel has been started with the system of leaving the compensation to the boarder's sense of equity. If that were true of every hotel there would often be something coming to the boarder.

Whether it is a financial deal in Wall street or a seven-up set-to in a hay mow, if it is gambling, it seems to be a losing game just the same.

American football has been introduced into Japan. Can this be the starting of hostilities?

Spring Fork News

Spring Fork, Nov. 5

The farmers are enjoying fine weather now, which is needed for corn husking, plowing and fall work in general.

G. W. Rider, wife and little daughter spent last Sunday in Sedalia with Mrs. Rider's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Garrett.

Joe Mevelgan went to Sedalia Monday and while there purchased of Johannes & Sons a new Fish wagon.

J. L. Bengeman and wife are entertaining as their guests this week relatives from Ohio.

Lon V. Ware, county treasurer, and some of his friends, spent today in this section, hunting.

G. H. Rider had the misfortune of having a fine blooded heifer struck by a S., W. & S. W. train one day last week.

Mrs. T. H. Diffendaffer, of Sedalia, spent last Monday night with her sister, Mrs. George Dump, returning to her home Tuesday.

Mrs. Grover Ray and sister, Miss Etta Reicke, drove to Sedalia Monday.

Mrs. C. F. Devoll made a business trip to Cole Camp one day last week.

John Mahnken is putting a concrete floor in his chicken house. He says he guesses that will keep the "varmints" out for a while.

Herb Elliott and family spent a very pleasant afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Martain last Sunday.

The dance at the Spring Fork hall one night last week was a very enjoyable affair, and all present had a royal good time.

Pat and Mike Donahoe returned from Kansas City one day last week, where they bought seventy head of fine heifers, which they expect to feed. This is as fine a bunch of heifers as was ever put in a feed lot in this section.

Mrs. C. E. Beard, west of here, left one day last week for an extended visit with old friends and relatives at Iowa City, Iowa.

Lincoln, Mo., Nov. 6.

Business is dull and farmers are busy.

Dr. Rhodes is building a warehouse and gasoline house at the rear of his drug store.

J. A. Reeves, our genial depot agent, is putting down a concrete walk in front of his residence.

T. D. Redford recently opened a butcher shop here, and expects a full supply of meats of all kinds.

Bert Foster, who had his leg broken some three months ago, is now able to walk with a cane.

John Kaiser, Jr., and others, of Sedalia, are hunting near the "Cave," nine miles southeast of here, this week.

Mrs. E. L. Rhodes and daughter, Marie, returned last Tuesday from a week's visit in St. Louis.

Rev. J. T. Nevins, of Holden, preached at the Baptist church here last Tuesday night. The church here and the one at Warsaw will probably secure his services as pastor for a year.

RANDOM EXTRACTS

THE WEALTH THAT IS POOR

Long years, to pile up millions
He toiled the world along,
And if he heard a sweet bird sing
He sold it for a song.

To him the sun was silver,
The moon was wished-for gold,
The stars were dimes and dollars
That golden stories told.

And yet his wealth—his station—
His name by Love forgot,
He cried to Love—a beggar,
But Love—it knew him not.
—Atlanta Constitution.

Highly Suspicous.

"It is a rule, to which good lawyers usually adhere," says a Philadelphia attorney, "never to tell more than one knows. There was an instance in England, not many years ago, wherein a lawyer carried the rule to the extreme.

"One of the agents in a Midland revision court objected to a person whose name was on the register on the ground that he was dead. The revision attorney declined to accept the assurance, however, and demanded conclusive testimony on the point.

"The agent on the other side arose and gave corroborative evidence as to the decease of the man in question.

"'Well,' was the reply, 'I don't know. It's very difficult to prove.'

"'As I suspected,' returned the barrister. 'You don't know whether he's dead or not.' 'I was saying, sir, that I don't know whether he's dead or not; but I do know this, they buried him about a month ago on suspicion.'"—Harper's Weekly.

Rather Out of Hand.

"I believe in corporal punishment," he said stoutly, in a recent address. "I take no stock in moral suasion. Good, healthy boys under moral suasion have too free a time of it. They get out of hand.

"There is a friend of mine," said Prof. Lorimer with a grim smile, "who is raising a family of six boys with the help of moral suasion. The mild little chap argued about the matter the other night at a club.

"'And do you believe,' said I, 'that moral suasion is better than corporal punishment for big, lusty boys like yours?'

"'Yes,' said my friend.

"For my part, I sneered.

"'And do you mean to say that you have never whipped your boys?' I asked.

His Ham-Like Honesty.

Mrs. M. G. Quackenbos, whom Attorney General Bonaparte has made one of his special assistants in the campaign against the trusts, is a New York lawyer of great brilliance. Mrs. Quackenbos has the faculty of underscoring a remark with an appropriate fable. Thus, discussing the other day the character of a certain notorious millionaire, she said:

"I suppose there is some honesty in the man, but it is hard to find. It reminds me of the railway ham sandwich. A man paused bitterly in the consumption of a very hard, dry railroad ham sandwich, and said to the maid behind the bar:

"'Oh, you ain't come to it yet,' said the maid, with a smile.

"A minute or two passed. The man's jaws worked gloomily. Then they stopped again, and he said:

"'I don't see no ham, yet, young woman.'

The Pickle Look.

Prince Wilhelm, of Sweden, told a New York reporter that Americans all worked hard and looked happy.

"In my country," the prince went on, "we work hard, too, but we have not your happy look. Perhaps it is the climate. At any rate, we tell a story in Sweden that is typical, a story which will give you some idea of our national expression, though not, I'm sure, of our national character:

"A Frenchman visited a Swede in Stockholm, and one morning the two friends set out for a walk. Suddenly the Frenchman exclaimed impatiently:

"'You look as sour as a pickle. Why don't you smile? Why don't you have a pleasant, good-natured air when you are out of doors?'

"'What!' growled the Swede. 'And have everybody stopping me for a match or asking me how to get somewhere?'"

The People's Choice.

Senator LaFollette was talking in Madison about crushing monopolies.

"These concerns," he said, "live on the people, and therefore they try to flatter and delude the people. They pretend that it is on the people's sufferance that their existence depends. But this, really, is not the truth. The people have no choice in the matter.'

The senator smiled.

"The people and the corporations," he said, "remind me of a lady and her little boy. I was lunching at this lady's house one day. There was a very large chicken and a very small duck on the table, and the lady, pausing with the carving knife raised, said:

"'Johnny, which will you take, chicken or duck?'

"'Duck,' piped Johnny.

"But the mother shook her head.

"'No, Johnny,' she said, in a firm yet kindly voice, 'you can't have duck, my dear. Take your choice, my darling, take your choice—but you can't have duck.'"

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

The Cost of Meat.

Reduction in the cost to the consumer of food staples is the prediction of dealers supplying the necessities of life. While the downward movement has not affected the New York retail markets as yet, there is every indication that the housewife will be able to supply her table in a short time at an outlay much less than that to which she has been accustomed for the last year.

According to M. J. Sulzberger, vice president of the Schwarzchild & Sulzberger company, a drop in the cost of beef of the poorer grades may be lpoked for at any time.

"The price of meat to the consumed depends on the cattle receipts at Chicago and other western points," said Mr. Sulzberger, "and these receipts just now are light. At Chicago, for instance, Monday's receipts were 21,000 head, as compared with 35,000 head on the preceding Monday. But in the face of these figures the cost of the poorer quality of meat probably will decline. In the matter of choice beef, the corn-fed product of the middle west that is known in the trade as native beef, I look for no reduction in price because the supply is short."

A canvass of the situation in the West Fourteenth street market district showed actual decreases already in force in some commodities and a general feeling that prices in others will drop if the financial flurry continues any considerable length of time. Poultry shows a decrease of from 10 to 15 per cent. The egg market is weaker. It is said that dealers on account of the big supply of fresh eggs that have come into the market recently have found it impossible to dispose of the large cold storage stocks that were laid in last April and May at such a figure as to make money.—New York Herald.

Will Food Prices Fall.

Cudahy's 10 per cent meat cut will be the first of many. The Omaha meat packer has been wise in advance of his rivals and the copartners in the meat trust, as he has been before.

Meats must come down. Taking the statistical situation, it is at least 20 per cent too high. The increase in the number of meat animals of all sorts has caught up and passed the increase in population. A range of wholesale prices a fifth lower would be fair.

The advance in milk in this city has wholly and justly failed Here again expenses have doubtless increased so far as delivery is concerned. Oats and feed are higher, horses cost more and, what is more important than all the rest, wages have gone up. Good men for drivers on milk routes are hard to get, their pay is higher, and in many cases their work is less efficient. With the increase in pay has often come a decrease in effort, activity and output. The same number of men serve fewer customers.

But the supply of milk is larger. More farms are reached by rail in time for daily city consumption, the average yield per cow has increased and the ice machine saves milk longer. For an advance in milk, as in meat, there is no excuse.—Philadelphia Press.

THE TIPPECANOE BATTLE

TODAY WAS THE NINETY-SIXTH ANNIVERSARY OF MEMORABLE EVENT.

PALEFACE VERSUS THE REDSKIN

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 7.—Today was the ninety-sixth anniversary of the battle of Tippecanoe, the greatest in that long series of struggles for supremacy between the paleface settlers of the new west and the redskin aborigines. Many patriotic people today paid pilgrimages to the historic spot where, in 1811, William Henry Harrison broke the power of Tecumseh's great confederacy of the northwestern tribes and won that military fame that later led to the presidency. A movement will soon be set on foot to celebrate in a fitting manner the centennial of the battle four years hence.

The battleground is eight miles from Lafayette and is owned by the state of Indiana. It is surrounded by an iron fence, and over the arched entrance is the single inscription, "Battle of Tippecanoe, November 7, 1811." An appropriation has been made by the state of Indiana to provide for the erection of a suitable monument to those early heroes who took part in the memorable battle.

Aside from the iron fence, the battleground presents today almost the same scene of idyllic and rustic beauty as it did ninety-six years ago. Although a trolley line extends from the city of Lafayette to the grounds, and there are other evidences of American progress in the vicinity the ground itself is very much as described by Harrison in 1811:

"A piece of dry oak land rising about ten feet above the level of a marshy prairie in front, toward the town of the prophet, and nearly twice that height above a similar prairie in the rear, through which runs a small stream known as Burnet's creek, bordered by willows and brushwood."

It was to this point that William Henry Harrison, then governor of Indiana territory, marched with his troops from Vincennes, then a rude fort with a few log huts and dignified by the name of territorial capital. All through the summer of 1811 Governor Harrison had been receiving from his scouts wild rumors of a terrible Indian uprising, which was to result in the "elimination" by the gentle methods then practiced by poor Lo, of all the whites west of the Alleghenies. Two Shawnee brothers, known as Tecumseh and the Prophet, the latter a religious fanatic and medicine man, were the arch conspirators of the redskin uprising and had planned a great confederation of the northwestern Indians and the Creeks and allied tribes of the south. Before Tecumseh had completed his plans for a confederacy, his brother, out of religious zeal, decided to take matters into his own hands. He organized a body of redskins so large as to constitute, in Harrison's opinion, a menace to the territory, and with less than a thousand men he marched to what was afterward the scene of the memorable battle. Trained Indian fighters, including, besides two battalions of regulars, many volunteers from Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana, made up the little army. The camping ground of the Prophet was reached on November 6, and the Indian leader proposed a truce until the next day. Harrison accepted, and encamped his men for the night on the oak ridge. Every man slept on his gun, expecting a night attack. Nor were their fears of Indian treachery groundless.

After religious exercises, which, he promised his braves, would render them invulnerable to the bullets of the palefaces' guns, the Prophet gave the order to attack the camp of the whites. At 4 o'clock on the morning of November 7, 1811 the battle began. Stephen Mars, a white sentry, who was brained at his post, but not before he fired an alarming shot, was the first victim.

The combat which followed was the most terrible in the history of Indian warfares. In blackest darkness, which made it impossible to distinguish friend from foe, the brave backwoodsmen fought hand to hand with the braves of the fanatical Prophet. The muskets of the whites were almost useless, except as clubs, and the battle became a duel to the death between struggling individuals, with the hunting knife pitted against the tomahawk. The incantations of the Prophet were of no avail against the fearlessness of the whites, and many a dusky brave began that night the long trip to the happy hunting grounds. When morning came and the palefaces were able to use their guns with effect, the remnants of the Prophet's tribe fled in all directions. Harrison fought with his men in the midst of the terrible night battle, and earned a reputation which was used with great effect in his presidential campaign.

The battle was decisive and highly important, in that it gave to the United States the undisputed ownership of the northwest territory, embracing the greater portion of what is now the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

LITTLE GIRL SUFFERED LONG.

Then Great Remedy Cured Skin Disease Which Had Gained Powerful Foothold.

The medical world, and especially the cutaneous experts of the medical world, are considerably stirred over the latest reports of the daughter of W. E. Koch, the real estate and insurance man of Huntington, Ind., who suffered for such a long time with what was looked upon as an incurable skin disease.

Mr. Koch was referred by a friend to the wonderful liquid remedy, D. D. D. Prescription, which is a specific for eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, barber's itch and other diseases of the skin.

Almost the first application on the little girl's delicate skin caused the itch to go away and her skin began to heal.

Mr. Koch, writing about the case, says: "We have used D. D. D. Prescription and find it the best we ever tried for eczema. Our little girl was afflicted with this disease for several years. We tried everything we ever heard of and nothing did her any good until we heard of your remedy. We used four bottles and it cured the child. That was eight years ago and the disease never has returned. I can recommend your D. D. D. highly to any one afflicted with eczema."

D. D. D. Prescription is a purely vegetable external remedy that is applied direct to the terrible itching parts. It gives relief instantly and almost immediately the signs of a cure are seen. A short use and the terrible itching scales fall off, the skin cools, the inflammation goes away and soon it is white and healthy. This remedy follows the principles of the latest learned skin specialists that eczema is in the skin, not in the blood, and consequently should be treated through the skin and not through the stomach.

This remedy is on sale at the W. E. Bard Drug Co. If you come in we will show you some convincing letters and other literature which will give all skin sufferers some good advice about dieting, bathing, etc. We also sell D. D. D. Soap.

HARRY SNEED'S HOG SALE

Conducted on His Farm Near Smithton Wednesday.

Harry Sneed held a sale of Maple Hill herd of Duroc-Jersey hogs on his farm, one and one-half miles west of Smithton, Wednesday. The attendance of buyers was not up to expectations, or to what the amount and condition of the offerings would warrant, owing, no doubt, to the unsettled condition of the financial world, and the break in prices of stock of all kinds, yet all offerings found prompt sale at fairly good prices.

About thirty head of young boars and gilts were sold for $700, or an average of about $25 each.

Stockton Cotton, who owns a fine stock farm northeast of Sedalia, bought an 18-months-old gilt, for which he paid $65, the top price of the sale, and secured as a present from Mr. Sneed a choice 2-months-old pig.

Dr. Boyd, of Carthage, paid $60 for a last March gilt; A. B. Shepherd, of Columbia, Mo., secured an April boar pig for $53; R. Banning, who resides three miles east of Sedalia, secured seven head of young gilts and two choice boars, for which he paid $176, or an average of about $20, and was much pleased with his purchases. The balance of the sales were made at prices ranging from $40 down to $20.

Before the sale was called the ladies of the Smithton M. E. church served a fine warm lunch, which put the crowd in condition to buy liberally, and secured a goodly sum for the church.

Cols. C. A. Manifold and C. J. Hieronymus conducted the sale, and Frank L. Wright, cashier of the Smithton bank, had charge of the books.

S.S.S. FORTY YEARS SUCCESSFUL SERVICE

When a medicine has stood the test for a period of more than two generations and is then more popular than ever, there can be no doubt of its merit. This is the record of S. S. S. Its period of existence is marked by a long line of cures of blood and skin diseases of every character, and its value in the treatment of such troubles has become so well known that it is today the most extensively used blood medicine on the market. For Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases and all other troubles due to an impure or poisoned condition of the blood, S. S. S. has no equal. It counteracts and drives out the poisons, humors and germs, cleanses the system of all unhealthy matter, cures the disease permanently and restores strong, robust health. Where the blood is weak or anaemic, and unable to furnish the body with the nourishment and strength it needs, S. S. S. supplies it with the healthful properties and acts splendidly in toning up and reinvigorating the system. It goes down to the very bottom of all blood disorders, and in this way reaches inherited taints on which the ordinary blood medicines have no effect. Not only is S. S. S. certain in its results, but it is at the same time an absolutely safe remedy. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks of known healing and curative value. It does not contain the slightest trace of mineral in any form to damage the delicate parts of the system, and may be used by children with the same good results and perfect safety as by older people. It is not an experiment to use S. S. S.; it is a remedy with a record and one that has proven its worth by its forty years of successful service. If you are in need of a blood purifier for any cause begin the use of S. S. S., write our physicians and they will send you a book concerning your trouble, and will give without charge any special medical advice that is required.

FISH TRUST IN NEW YORK

The Price of All Varieties of Fish Doubled Past Year.

New York, Nov. 7.—As a result, it is alleged, of the malicious activity of a "fresh fish trust" which controls the New York markets, the price of nearly all varieties of fish has doubled within the last year, despite the fact that this has been an exceptionally good season for fishermen.

Millions of pounds of fish are being kept in cold storage in order to keep the price to its present high standard, which is prohibitive to many poor families.

Cod, which last November sold at from 6 to 8 cents, now costs from 10 to 14 cents, and a similar advance has been made on nearly every sort of staple food fish.

Let us speak of men as we find them,
And censure only what we can see,
Remembering that none can be perfect

Will Curtail Expenses.

A meeting of the finance and supplies committee of the city council and Mayor Collins was held Wednesday afternoon, when it was decided to recommend to the council at the adjourned meeting Friday night that all possible expenditures be reduced to the minimum, and that no improvements be undertaken that are not absolutely necessary. The financial condition of the city makes the step imperative, it is said.

SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE

What is Causing the Increase of Catarrh in Sedalia?

In spite of the best efforts of medical men, catarrhal troubles are increasing not only in Sedalia, but all over the country.

Catarrh is a germ disease, and to cure it germ life in the breathing organs should be destroyed, and to do this no other treatment has such beneficial action as Hyomei.

When the mucous membrane is irritated and raw and the tissues weakened, there is an ideal lodging place for catarrhal germs, rendering catarrh no longer possible.

There is no dangerous stomach drugging when Hyomei is used; no tablets or liquid mixtures destroying digestion.

Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every Hyomei outfit, the healing balsams penetrate to the most remote air cells of the throat, nose and lungs, destroying the catarrhal germs so that quick recovery follows.

W. E. Bard Drug Co. agree to refund the money to any purchaser of Hyomei who does not find that it does all that is claimed for it. The complete outfit costs but $1.00.

Notice.

We will accept bank checks and certificates in full payment for any and all goods in our store—Sedalia Piano House, 505 Ohio street. S. R. Payne, Proprietor.

MILLS HOTEL A SUCCESS

PHILANTHROPY IS THE "KEYNOTE"

It is a Structure Fifteen Stories High and Contains 1875 Rooms, Nearly All Being Six by Eight Feet in Size.

New York, Nov. 7.—Although it has been open less than three weeks, the new Mills hotel, at Seventh avenue and Thirty-sixth street, has already attained a greater measure of success than its two predecessors. It was built to meet the demand for accommodations for men of small means in the up-town section of the city. That such a demand existed is evidenced by the number of applicants for rooms, exceeding the capacity of the big hotel.

Practical philanthrophy is the keynote of the Mills hotel project, originated and put into execution by D. O. Mills, the banker and financier, with the assistance and counsel of his daughter, Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, wife of the American ambassador to Great Britain.

The first Mills hotel was opened a decade ago in Bleecher street, with 1,554 rooms, and the second opened with 600 rooms in 1898. Both have been filled almost constantly, and, although no public statement of receipts and expenditures has been given out by Mr. Mills, it is understood that the hostelries have not only paid their own way, but have returned between 1 and 2 per cent on the original investment. It has been Mr. Mills' plan, not to dispense charity, but to provide comfortable and even luxurious accommodations for men of small means at actual cost.

The new Mills hotel occupies an advantageous and convenient location, about a minute's walk from Broadway at Herald Square. It is fifteen stories in height, has a frontage of 100 feet in Seventh avenue and 200 feet in Thirty-sixth street, and contains 1,875 rooms, being much larger than the other Mills institutions.

It is of steel construction, faced with limestone, light brick and terra cotta, and is as dignified and elegant in its exterior as any hotel in the metropolis. Three capacious elevators are provided for the convenience of the guests. The foyer and main floor are trimmed in marble, as are the large lounging rooms. The latter have glass floors and are in reality courts, covered at the top of the main story with glass skylights, supported by marble pillars. Above this floor the courts furnish light and air to the room opening upon them. From these courts open four sitting rooms, fitted with a well assorted library, a completely appointed writing room and various games for the free use of the guests.

The courts and sitting rooms are furnished in oak and decorated with palms. In the basement is the kitchen and restaurant, where meals, either simple or elaborate, are served to guests at cost price. The bath rooms, with thirty shower baths, and a laundry and barber shop, are also located in the basement.

All but a few of the bedrooms are 6x8 feet in size. Each is neatly and cleanly furnished, lighted by electricity and heated by steam. The entire building has been rendered as nearly fire-proof as possible.

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute" says the doctor. "Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee Imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real Coffee in it either. Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted cerials or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for Coffee. R. C. Dolph & Co.

Young Girl Adjudged Insane.

Miss Ellen Lafferty, a beautiful young girl of 18 years of age, was Tuesday adjudged insane by the county court, says the Warrensburg Star. The young lady lived with her mother in the Bristle Ridge neighborhood and had enjoyed good health until a week ago, when her mind left her. She was washing dishes, when she was seized with a fit and fell to the floor and her condition has gradually become worse. She was taken to the Nevada hospital by Sheriff Hudson Wednesday morning.

May Get a Policy, Too.

J. C. Culick, agent for the Continental Casualty Co., has written W. T. Brimm, a Green Ridge merchant, who is to walk from Green Ridge to Sedalia Sunday for a $15 prize, but to forfeit that amount if he fails to perform the feat in three hours, stating that if he accomplishes the feat he will be given a six months' policy in the Continental company.

IT RELIEVES THE WORST CASES

Direction for Mixing at Home to Make the Kidneys Act Properly and Overcome Rheumatism and Urinary Weakness.

To make up enough of the "Dandelion treatment," which is claimed to be relieving nearly every sufferer who uses it for backache, kidney complaint, sore, weak bladder and rheumatism, get from any good prescription pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon and three ounces Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

Those who have tried it claim that it acts gently but thoroughly on the kidneys, relieving backache and bladder trouble and urinary difficulties almost instantly. Many cases of rheumatism are known to have been relieved within a few days, the pain and swelling diminishing with each dose.

A well-known local druggist, who is in a position to know, asserts that this prescription, wherever it becomes known, always ruin the sale of the numerous patent medicine rheumatism cures, kidney cures, etc. It is a recipe which the majority of patent medicine manufacturers, and even certain physicians dislike to see published. Few cases, indeed, which will fail to fully yield to its peculiarly soothing and healing influence. Being composed of common every-day ingredients, which can be had from any druggist, it makes up a good, honest and harmless remedy and at nominal cost.

is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the appoval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

A COW GOES ON A SPREE

Became Intoxicated Through Eating Cider Apples.

South Norwalk, Conn., Nov. 7.—Joseph Ball's cow, usually a kindly and docile creature, got into his orchard and gorged on cider apples, which strewed the autumn grass. As a result she became intoxicated.

The apple juice must have fermented, for when Ball tried to drive her from the orchard she pursued him and butted him so hard that she injured his spinal cord. Ball was taken to Norwalk hospital, suffering from paralysis of the lower limbs. After cavorting around for an hour the cow recovered her accustomed sobriety.

What This Sedalia Citizen Says Only Corroborates the Story of Thousands.

The particulars related by this representative citizen of Sedalia are similar to hundreds of others in this city. When there are scores of people, all anxious to tell about the benefits received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, the greatest skeptic in Sedalia must be convinced. Read the following:

M. C. Culley, a railroad foreman, living at 1512 East Fourth street, Sedalia, Mo., says: "I gave my testimony endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago. My confidence in that remedy remains unchanged. At that time I got a supply at the W. E. Bard Drug Co. and have used them since for backache and rheumatic pains in the shoulders. They promptly respond whenever I take them. Doan's Kidney Pills are the best back ache and kidney medicine I ever used."

Amusements

NEW SEDALIA THEATER.

The insatiable appetite of the amusement loving public is experiencing a most delightful novelty this season in an appetizing morsel in the way of a western play with music, called "The Girl Over There." Something new and doing is the cry, and, in "The Girl Over There," in which Mabel McCane is appearing, the want is supplied with remarkable originality, and while there may be nothing new under the sun, a change of combination of circumstances is bound to make a change of effect, and effect plays the most important part in dramatic musical offerings. Miss McCane, a singing and dramaitc star of unusual popularity in metropolitan music codcles, heads this attraction, and is surrounded with a most acceptable company of thirty-five artists.

WOOD'S OPERA HOUSE.

The society drama, Felicia, was the bill at Wood's opera house last night, and it was up to the highest expectations. Every member of the company seemed to be at their best and the numerous encores showed that the performance was highly appreciated. The specialties were high class in every particular and brought forth favorable comment.

Tonight "Her Fatal Shadow" will be played, with an entire change of specialties, headed by the musical McDonalds in a skit entitled, "Making Dynamite." Matinee Saturday, Cinderella.

Two Ways to Feed Cattle.

A correspondent asks what is the best method of feeding cattle in spring weather? There are several ways. One man might prefer to take the ox in his lap and feed him with a spoon. Another would bring him into the dining-room and let him sit at the table with the old folks. Tastes differ in matters of this kind.

O. C. Worline, of Los Angeles, Cal., and Miss Hattie Paxton, of Bunceton, were guests of Mrs. Lizzie Stites' family Sunday. Mr. Worline is interested in a wholesale coffee house at Los Angeles. He left Missouri several years ago. He has frequently visited here and has many friends who welcome him back. Mr. Worline has been visiting his relatives at Pleasant Hill for a month. He expects to leave soon for his home in California.

The Record's new home is a place of beauty. Editor Watson has a sanctum, light, warm and well ventilated and he's feeling good and writing biographies of his readers. Of course they are all good.

W. A. Scott has re-bought his butcher stock and opened up at the old stand. Mr. Scott sold out nearly a year ago and thought something of leaving Pilot Grove, but failing to find a location he liked as well he has concluded to remain here.

Pilot Grove is wondering if she has a Cassie Chadwick. But who is the woman? The story goes that she forged a check on Wm. Schuster, got $500 in cold cash, that her husband coughed up the money and made good and the rest is mystery deep and silent. Even the Record's sleuths have been unable to tell who the woman forger is or whence she came.

A local institution billed for last Saturday afternoon at West Oakland was postponed a week owing to pressure of other business on the part of the teachers. C. F. Smith, manager, was in town after nursery stock. D. L. Roe was teaching, H. L. Stites was selling Duroc hogs and other teachers failed to put in an appearance. An effort to carry out the program will be made again next Saturday.

Overhauls Fleeing Spouse and Man With Whom She Eloped.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 7.—After a 1,500 mile chase, during which he was at all times just a few miles behind his wife and the man with whom she had eloped, Charles Wiman Hermit, a justice of the peace in Raymond, Alberta, Northwest Canada, had the fleeing pair arrested here. The man who is held with the woman is John Cooper, a land agent.

Although Hermit arrived here several hours behind the couple, he was enabled to make the capture because his wife tarried too long over a visit to relatives in Ferrisburg.

SURPRISE WAS SPRUNG

IN A MURDER CASE TRIAL THAT BEGAN AT LIBERTY, MO., WEDNESDAY.

WEBB AND THE DEAD GIRL NOT WED

Two Visted Defendant's Relatives and Passed as Man and Wife—Woman Couldn't Have Fired Shots, the State's Contention.

Liberty, Mo., Nov. 6.—An unexpected development of the trial of Jesse B. Webb on the charge of having killed his wife, who was Miss Inez Walkup, of Fairfax, Mo., was the statement on the part of the defense yesterday afternoon that it would prove that Webb and the young woman who was killed were 'not man and wife. This is the first time such as assertion has been made.

The work of securing the jury was finished during the morning, and the opening statements of the defense and of the prosecution followed at once.

Prosecutor Craven outlined the known facts in the case, telling the jury that Webb and the supposed wife were both nurses in the asylum for the insane at St. Joseph, that they were supposed to have been married and were on their way to Hot Springs, Ark., when they stopped at the Peddicord hotel in Smithville, Mo., because Webb had consumption and was too weak to continue the jouney at that time.

He said that when the people in the hotel broke into the room, the door of which was locked, the two were lying on the bed. She was lying at the left side of Webb, and, being right handed, her position was such, the prosecutor said, that she could not have fired the shots. She had three bullet wounds in the chest and one in the head. Death had come to her before the people in the hotel had broken into the room.

Webb was conscious. He had one wound in the chest, and the prosecutor said that he was saying:

"Shoot me again, dear."

M. F. Lawson outlined the case for the defense. He said that at the time of the shooting Webb was 26 years old and his supposed wife was 19. The attorney said that she was born at Fairfax, Mo., and Webb at Edgerton, Mo. Both had been employed in the asylum six months, the attorney said, but had known each other only three weeks. He then sprung a sensation by announcing that the two had not been married.

Mr. Lawson said that after they left St. Joseph the two stopped in Plattsburg, Mo., and represented themselves as man and wife to Webb's relatives. It was while in Plattsburg, the attorney said, that the young woman revealed her condition to Webb.

While Webb was in the hotel at Smithville, Mr. Lawson said it would be proved, he had James Reed, a friend of his, who lives in Trimble, Mo., go to see him. Webb asked Reed to take him to the home of Webb's brother in Edgerton, and Reed said he would do so. The lawyer said that evidence would be introduced, however, to show that when Reed tried to help Webb dress the young woman got between them and would not permit him to do so. It will be proved, said Lawson, that the young woman told Webb that if he went away she would follow and kill him.

The taking of testimony began during the afternoon.

"VETS" MEET IN THE SOUTH

Vicksburg, Miss., Nov. 7.—On the very spot where more than two score years ago its members won glory and fame, the Society of the Army of the Tennessee today began its annual reunion.

The son of the man who took Vicksburg will deliver one of the principal orations, and Mrs. John A. Logan and other prominent northerners will take part in the exercises.

As an additional manifestation of the era of good will and brotherly feeling that now exists between the north and the south, Gen. Stephen D. Lee, of the United Confederate Veterans, who valiantly held the city against the assaults of Sherman's army, will address the Union veterans.

This is the first time that the Army of the Tennessee has met in a southern city since the war, and this renders the occasion of exceptional importance.

"TEDDY" ON THE TRUSTS

PRESIDENT ASSERTS CORPORATION HEADS HAVE BEEN MISINFORMED.

IS AGHAST AT THE PUBLIC'S VIEW

Position Minutely Explained to White House Callers—Newspapers Blamed—Only the Dishonest Are Wared.

Washington, Nov. 7.—President Roosevelt expects a number of business men, bankers and financiers from New York City and other commercial centers to visit him between this and the time for the congress to meet.

The president is greatly surprised to discover the amount of misinformation possessed by these leaders in trade and finance as to his attitude toward corporations. He welcomes visits to the White house and goes to considerable trouble to explain the things upon which they have a mass of misinformation.

Yesterday he talked in that connection with Charles E. Mellen, one of the leading railroad men in New England, and on Monday he had a conference with Messrs. Garry and Frick of the United tates Steel company.

Believes Financiers Misinformed.

The president yesterday expressed himslf as aghast at the way in which leading men view his utteraces. He believes they accured their misinformation from the headlines and editorials of that portion of the press in the United States which has either purposely or unwittingly misrepresented him.

The president does not have it in mind to make any radical change in the position he has assumed towards wrongdoers, whether they be corporations or individuals, but he is going to considerable pains and trouble to explain just what his position is and has been. In all of these conferences he "stands pat" on what he said in the past.

Remarks Refer to Dishonest.

As an example of the misunderstanding on the part of recent prominent callers at the White house, it was pointed out yesterday that they were of the opinion that he had said in the course of public utterances, that he believes a majority of the business in the country was conducted dishonestly and unlawfully.

The president points out that what he did say was just the contrary, and he challenges anyone to find anything in an of his speeches or messages, or even in his correspondence, which indicates other than that he believes a majority of the business enterprises of the country are conducted on strictly legitimate and honest lines, and that whatever criticisms he has offered have been of a dishonest minority.

Bonaparte's Interview Cited.

Again the general accepted fallacy, even among business men and financiers, who are usually well informed on all matters of public interest, is that the president has said that he thought many of the leading corporation heads ought to be "in jail" As a matter of fact, the president has never said in any of his speeches that he thought any o fthem ought to be in jail. What he did say, in effect, in his Nashville speech, was that he expected to continue to prosecute those who had been successful in the practice of dishonesty.

It is a matter of easy recollection that during the past summer the attorney general, Mr. Bonaparte, is reported to have said, in the course of his facetious discussion of the activities of his department, something to the effect that some of the leaders should be in jail. The interview in question was published during the absence of the president from Washington, and it is unnecessary to say, did not have his approval, either before or since its publication.

Stand on Sherman Law.

As a further indication of the president's real attitude, at this time and in the past, and of it being generally misunderstood, his utterances relative to the Sherman antitrust law can be cited. Recently, one of his callers said in effect: "Mr. President, what this country needs at this time is some one bold enough to sacrifice himself for the public good by denouncing the Sherman antitrust law most vigorously, so that the congress will amend it in the particulars where it needs amending. That 's a most iniquitous law, in that it does not discriminate between combinations which are harmless and may even be in thelinterests of the consuming public, and these which are evil and operate against the public interest."

The president asked his visitor if he was familiar with recent messages to the congress of the United States. The visitor replied that he was.

The president insisted that if he was familiar with the message which he sent to congress at its last session he would not have offered this suggestion. The president then sent for a copy of his last message and read from it portions in denunciation of the Sherman antitrust law which were fully as strong and emphatic as anything thath his visitor had said. The surprise of his visitor was manifest.

Reflects Roosevelt's Views.

Examination of that message shows that the president said: "It is unfortunate that our present laws should forbid all combinations instead of sharply discriminating between those combinations which do good and those combinations which do evil. It is a public evil to have on the statute books a law incapable of full enforcement, because both judges and juries realize that its full enforcement would destroy the business of the country."

In the message preceding the last one the president also used this language: "It has been a misfortune that the national laws have hitherto been of a negative or prohibitive rather than an affirmative kind, and still more that they have in part sought to prohibit what could not be effectively prohibited, and have in part, in their prohibitions, confounded what should be allowed and what should not be allowed. It is generally useless to try to prohibit all restraint on competition, whether this restraint be reasonable or unreasonable, and where it is not useless it is generally hurtful."

These expressions may be taken as correctly reflecting, at the present time, the views of President Roosevelt.

Will Attend Conference.

The Rev. Fr. Christian Daniel, assistant pastor of Sacred Heart church, will leave Sunday afternoon for Collegeville, Ind., and goes from there to Carthagena, O., to attend a conference of priests of the order of the C. PP. S. While in the Buckeye state Fr. Daniel will visit his old home, and possibly will be absent a couple of weeks.

TIGERS TO HOLD REGATTA

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 7.—Princeton will hold its first regatta on Carnegie lake tomorrow, beginning a gala time that promises to be among the enthusiastic in Princeton history. The regatta will begin the real rowing history of Princeton.

The feature will be a four-oared race between the various classes of the university, for which the Carnegie cup has been offered, and the winning crew will have its initials engraved upon it. The regatta will be followed by a glee club concert, and on Saturday the senior prom and the Amherst-Princeton football game will be held.

MEETING OF TEACHERS

Those of Wisconsin Are ein Session at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 7.—Wisconsin pedagogues in large numbers are in attendance at the fifty-fifth annual convention of the State Teachers' association, which opened today for a session of three days. Many prominent educators will address the convention.

Previously the state educational meeting has been held during the Christmas holidays, as in most other states, but a law passed by the legislature now makes it possible for all Wisconsin teachers to attend a convention in the fall without loss of salary.

Babies and children need prompt attention when suffering from coughs and colds. The best remedy for mothers to use is Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It takes nearly as good as maple sugar, it contains no opiates, and it is laxative and drives the cold out of the system by gently moving the bowels. Sold by the Arlington Pharmacy.

The A. O. U. W. Paid Out $56,000.

The A. O. U. W. of Missouri paid $56,000 in death claims during October, while the deaths of the month called for only $41,000 The order is paying off belated claims rapidly, and hopes soon to be "out of the hole."

A tickling cough from any cause is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation to even very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties of Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the doctor uses, "the Sacred Herb." Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. W. E. Bard Drug Co.

REGARDING RAILROADS

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

An agreement has been reached between the Alton road and its trainmen which settles all differences between them.

The men, as already announced, had entered a protest against double-headed trains and were informed that the policy of the road was not to run them, and that they would be reduced to a minimum.

In case it is necessary to use a double header, the maximum tonnage will not be greater than that hauled by one of the larger types of engines. All wages have been increased uniformly 10 per cent.

Accepts $10,000 for a Leg.

The damage suit of J. T. Brady, of Kansas City, against the Chicago & Alton Railroad companywas finally disposed of in the supreme court in banc at Jefferson City Wednesday in an opinion filed by Judge Burgess.

Brady lost a leg five years ago in an accident in the yards of the Chicago & Alton at Kansas City. The lower court awarded him $15,000 damages. Three times since the case has been argued in the supreme court

Judge Burgess finds the damages excessive, but affirms the judgment of the lower court on condition that $5,000 of the damages be remitted. Brady's attorneys notified the clerk of the supreme court last evening that the award would be accepted, which will end the litigation.

A Brakeman Injured.

H. G. Wilson, a Missouri Pacific brakeman, was badly injured in the east yards near the midnight hour last night.

He was sent east on an extra and alighted near Engineer avenue to throw a switch. He did so, and started to jump on the pilot of the engine so as to be convenient to throw another switch.

His missed his footing and fell, the pilot of the engine badly crushing and lacerating his right foot, and painfully, though not seriously injuring his left foot.

He was taken to the company's St. Louis hospital this morning.

Funeral Not Arranged.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral of Engineer Graney, who died from injuries received in a wreck near Little Rock.

Relatives of the dead man are en route here from California, and until they arrive no arrangements will be made.

Mr. Finney Is in Italy.

F. N. Finney, ex-president of the M., K. & T. system, and father of Superintendent N. J. Finney, of this city, is having a delightful visit in Italy, but recently was "tied up" at a certain town for quite a time, due to a railroad strike.

Killed By Father's Engine.

Michael H. Godfrey, a young switchman, was killed at Decatur, Ill., yesterday by a Vandalia railway locomotive which his father was running.

Hospital Arrivals.

R. P. Nichols, bridgeman foreman, McAlester, I. T.

T. J. Gummere, store department laborer, Parsons, Kan.

M. Smith, fireman, Denison, Tex.

Automatic Couplers.

Frank James, a Katy high line engineer, is off, due to illness. He is up and around.

The ladies auxiliary of the O. R. C. will give a euchre at the I. O. O. F. hall tonight.

C. Y. Lawrence, a Missouri Pacific river route conductor, is here visiting his family.

J. M. Patterson, the Missouri Pacific conductor, who for several weeks has been troubled with nervousness, is getting along the best in the world, although he has not decided when he will resume work.

Roadmaster J. M. Chandler, of the Missouri Pacific, went west on No. 37 this morning.

J. P. Rodeman, traveling freight agent for the Missouri Pacific, went to Versalles at noon today.

A. P. Morrison, Missouri Pacific division engineer, went to Jefferson City and Boonville today.

W. H. Saunders, a Katy trainman, ill with typhoid fever at the company hospital, is doing nicely.

Superintendent N. J. Finney and Roadmaster James Payne, of the Katy, went to Boonville today.

Charles Brown, formerly a street car motorman, has engaged in the baggage and transfer business.

W. L. Hunnicutt, a north end Katy engineer, came over from Franklin Junction this morning to visit home folks.

Employes of the street car company are working at night, stringing a new trolley wire from Main to Sixteenth street.

The "swift," Missouri Pacific fast mai traain No. 7, was forty minutes late in arrival here today, held in St. Lous for eastern connections.

P. Ford, a Missouri Pacific machinist; John Murphy, engineer, and Charles Patrick, a brakeman, are on the sick list, with bronchitis.

B. G. Sullivan, a Missouri Pacific west end trainman, is off from work, suffering from a badly contused right elbow, received in a fall at Kansas City.

W. G. Turner, general grievance man for the O. R. C. on the Missouri Pacific, will be here from St. Louis tonight to visit G. W. Anderson and wife.

G. H. Gibson, a Missouri Pacific conductor, and Henry Walker, engineer, went out in charge of the work train on the Warsaw line this morning.

The usual two hour delay in the running of train No. 2 on the Katy occurred again today, late connections at Parsons being attributed to the delay.

Missouri Pacific engine No. 2663, in charge of Conductor Huff and Engineer Hobson, is being broke in between here and Tipton this afternoon.

"Obe" McCabe and "Dick" Carver, motorman and conductor, respectively, for the street car company, will take a few days' lay off next week and hunt in the vicinity of Fairfield.

Laberta M. Smith, daughter of Mrs. C. G. Smith, matron at the Katy station, who is preparing for the profession of a trained nurse at Chicago, is home for a few days' visit with her mother.

Dishonesty In Advertising Is the Result of Dishonest Merchandising

There are dealers in ready-made who from time to time state that their particular brand of ready-mades sell for less than half the tailor-made, are worth more than tailor-made and the styles are better, even going so far as to state that the merchant tailors copy the designs from them.

THEY KNOW THE FALSITY OF EACH STATEMENT, and make them simply as a dishonest means of getting your business.

Beware!

You can depend upon the clothing being as honest as the statement.

FAVOR UNSEXING CRIMINALS

Men Delegates at Battle Creek Oppose Proposition.

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 7.—The National Purity Congress adopted a platform yesterday. There was a very warm argument over a resolution favoring the unsexing of criminals, which was finally adopted, the men voting large against and the women favoring it.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Having bought the "Our Store," 118 Ohio street, and the "Peoples' Store," 1000 East Third street, I have consolidated the two and moved both to 218 West Main street. The "Our Store" had the reputation of handling the best line of ladies' and gents' hose in Sedalia; they also had a fine line of neckwear and underwear.

The "Peoples's Store" had the reputation of keeping the best line of gloves and overalls in the city, and the nicest and cleanest store in the country.

In addition to these two stocks, I have put in a large amount of new goods, consisting of dry goods, furnishings, shoes, groceries, etc.

Having bought these goods right, I am in a position to make prices as low or lower than anybody.

The policy of this store will be, "The Most Value for the Money; Your Money Back if Dissatisfied." I buy and sell for cash.

ELECTIONS ON TUESDAY

"TOM" JOHNSON WON OUT IN THE RACE FOR MAYOR OF CLEVELAND.

SAN FRANCISCO IS FOR DECENCY

Kentucky Went Republican and Prohibition Also Won—Results as Set Forth in the Latest Press Dispatches

New York, Nov. 6.—Additional returns received last night and this morning confirm the general election results already announced, and clear up some of the doubts in the closely contested cases. The main results as now established are as follows:

Governor Guild, of Massachusetts, has increased his plurality to about 150,000, against 30,000 in 1905. The entire state ticket and both branches of the legislature are strongly republican. Of the two democratic candidates, Whitney strongly outran Bartlett, the latter falling far below Hisgen of the independence league.

Maryland, which was in doubt last night, has elected Crothers, the democratic candidate for governor, and the entire democratic state ticket by about 7,000 plurality and the legislature is apparently democratic. Ex-Governor Smith carried the democratic primaries for the long term United States senatorship, and Senator Whyte is assured of the short term.

The result in New Jersey has become so close it may require the official count to decide between Katzenbach, democrat, for governor, and Fort, republican. Early reports of Katzenbach's lead of 15,000 have been followed by detailed returns showing that only a few hundred votes separate the contestants. At Newark Fort's election is claimed by a plurality of about 175. In 1904, Governor Stokes, republican, had a majority of 31,000 in New Jersey.

Fort, republican candidate for governor of New Jersey, continued to show growing strength in the morning reports, which indicate that he has a lead over Katenbach, the democratic candidate of 5,000.

Rhode Island re-elected Governor Higgins, democrat, for governor, and his plurality reaches 2,300, against 1,000 in 1904. The general assembly is republican in both branches, insuring the return of Wetmore to the United States senate.

Kentucky elected the entire republican state ticket, headed by Wilson, for governor, by majorities ranging from 5,000 to 10,000. The Kentucky legislature will have a democratic majority on joint ballot, and will probably elect Beckham to the United States senate.

New York results, city and state, remain as reported last night. Edward T. and Willard Bartlett, joint democratic and republican nominees, being elected as justices of the court of appeals, and the Tammany ticket in New York having a plurality over the independence league-republican fusion ticket.

Johnson Won in Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 6.—Mayor Tom L. Johnson was elected for the fourth time as mayor of Cleveland in a hard fought battle in which the republican ticket was headed by Congressman Theodore E. Burton, chairman of the house committee on rivers and harbors.

Chairman Baker, of the republican committee, early this morning conceded the election of Johnson by 8,000 plurality. The Johnson headquarters has his majority at a higher figure and the election of the entire democratic ticket is indicated by about 8,000. The democrats elected a majority of the councilmen.

Congressman Burton made gains over the vote of two years ago, when William H. Boyd was the republican candidate, but the gain was not sufficient to overcome the strong Johnson lead. The official count early today on 130 of 244 precincts gave Johnson 23,909, Burton 20,439.

The struggle was on the traction question. Both were for lower fares, but had different platforms.

Johnson lost votes in the aristocratic portions of the city, but in the west side and portions of the city inhabited by the wage earners and the people of moderate means he was strong. The vote was the heaviest ever cast in a municipal election in this city and the result is regarded as a decisive decree of the people on the city transportation question.

Kentucky Is Republican.

Louisville, Nov. 6.—Republicans won in Kentucky. As both parties were for local option, the state probably will be largely prohibition. Augustus E Wilson is elected governor, with W. H. Cox lieutenant governor.

Mr. Willson and the entire republican state ticket have been elected by majorities ranging from 5,000 to 10,000 and the republicans have carried the city of Louisville for both state and city tickets. James F. Grinstead, republican, is elected mayor of Louisville by 3,500 majority.

The next Kentucky legislature will have a democratic majority on joint ballot and presumably for Governor

TROUBLES ARE SETTLED

ARRANGEMENTS ARE MADE TO STRAIGHTEN OUT NEW YORK TRUST COMPANIES.

COMMITTEE PRESIDENTS TO MANAGE

Will Take Charge of Assets of Weak Concerns and See That Depositors Are Paid in Full—Will Resume Business.

New York, N. Y., November 6.—Following an entended conference at the home of J. Pierpont Margan of prominent New York bankers, the following statement has been issued showing the final settlement of the difficulties that have disturbed local financial conditions.

"A committee of trust companies of New York City has had the assets of the Trust Company of America and the Lincoln Trust company examined by experts, who report that in their judgment on the present basis of values the assets of each company are sufficient to pay its depositors in full. It has been arranged that a majority of the stock of each company shall be placed under control of a committee composed of President King, of the Union Trust company; President Sheldon, of the United States Trust company; President Walerburg, of the Manhattan Trust company; President Castles, of the Guarantee Trust company, and President Walker, of the Central Trust company, who will act in that capacity, and the necessary financial arrangements have been made to enable both companies to proceed with their business.

"(Signed): Edward King, Chairman of the Committee of Trust Companies."

Money for Moving Crops.

St. Paul, Nov. 6.—E. H. Bailey, president of the First National bank, announced last night that as a result of a conference between representatives of Duluth, St. Paul and Minneapolis banks with New York financial interests arrangements have been made whereby money will be provided for the movement of the northwestern crops.

PUT $16 IN THE STOVE

(Wednesday's Daily.)

Sixteen dollars in paper money belonging to Mrs. Hanson Collier, wife of a police officer, was burned unintentionally at Mr. Collier's home this morning.

Last night Mrs. Collier desired witnessing Charles B. Hanford's play at the Sedalia theater. Before leaving she placed her money, amounting to $16, in the oven of the stove, thinking that if robbers visited the place they would not look there.

After returning from the show she forgot about the money, and, as usual, this morning started a fire.

After several minutes smoke issued from the oven, and the thought of the currency dawned upon Mrs. Collier. She ran to the stove and opened the door, only to find the money gone up in smoke.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The contract to repair the postoffice building at Sedalia, Mo., including both labor and material, was awarded by the treasury department yesterday to T. H. Johnson, of Sedalia. The price agreed upon is $2,820.

THE GRAND JURY'S WORK

RUMOR HAS IT THAT ALL FORMS OF GAMBLING ARE BEING INVESTIGATED.

THE CLUBS THAT PLAY FOR PRIZES

Also City and County Officials Who Have Accepted Passes From the Railways—The Law Governing the Latter.

(Wednesday's Daily.)

What will the grand jury do?

Times without number the question was asked this morning, as there was a widely-circulated rumor on the streets that card-playing by women's clubs for prizes is being investigated, in connection with other forms of alleged gambling, and that it is possible a number of indictments may be returned.

Not only this, but it is rumored that the new law pertaining to "derelict officials," on which Judge Hoffman dwelt at length in his charge to the jury Monday, is also receiving attention at the hands of the jury, especially that portion of the law which pertains to state, county and municipal officials accepting passes from steam and street railways.

The Democrat-Sentinel is not in possession of the secrets of the grand jury room, but if rumor on the streets is to be credited, certain city and county officials who are known to be the possessors of annual passes given by the Sedalia Light and Traction Co., are to be called upon to explain in the premises.

The law governing cases of this kind is as plain as A, B and C. Not only is it a misdemeanor, punishable by a stiff fine, for an official to accept a pass, but it is also a crime for a railway official to bestow such a favor, the giver and receiver being equally culpable.

In order that readers of this paper may know just what the law is, two sections of the Statutes of Missouri, 1899, volume 1, page 625, under the caption "Railway Passes Prohibited," are re produced, as follows:

Section 2353. Railroad Passes Prohibited—No railroad or other transportation company shall grant or issue free passes or tickets, or passes or tickets at a discount, to members of the general assembly of the state of Missouri, or members of the state board of equalization, or any state, county or municipal officer. Any railroad or other transportation company violating the provisions of this section shall forfeit and pay for each offense the sum of two hundred dollars, which may be recovered in the name of the state in any court of competent jurisdiction, and shall be prosecuted by the prosecuting attorney of the county where the offense was committed, or the attorney general, and the amount recovered shall be paid into the county school fund of said county.

Section 2254. Penalty—Any officer, agent or employe of any railroad or other transportation company who shall send or deliver any free passes or tickets, or passes or tickets at a discount, to any member of the general assembly of the state of Missouri, or any member of the state board of equalization, or any state, judicial, county or municipal officer, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars.

Section 2255. Penalty for Accepting Passes—Any member of the general assembly of the state of Missouri, or member of the state board of equalization, or any state, judicial, county or municipal officer, who shall accept, use or travel on any free passes or tickets, or passes or tickets at a discount, mentioned in the preceding sections, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars for each offense, and upon conviction thereof, forfeit his office, and if there be no provisions made by law for the removal of such officer by impeachment, the court trying the cause shall adjudge the defendant to have forfeited his office and declare the same vacant: provided, that no court other than the circuit court or criminal court of record shall have power to adjudge any such office to be forfeited and vacant.

DESERVES A COWHIDING

COLUMBIA STUDENTS GUILTY OF MOST REPREHENSIBLE CONDUCT.

NO PUNISHMENT IS TOO SEVERE

Entered the Room of a Young Woman During Her Absence and Carried Off Underclothing to Make Souvenirs.

Celebrating a football victory is all right and proper, but when the celebrants descend to the indecent and low-down actions such as were indulged in by some of the students Saturday night, they should feel the strong arm of the law says the Columbia Tribune.

When young men enter a girl's room during her absence, pillage her wardrobe and take from it her underclothing, exhibit the name upon it in a public place and afterward cut it up for souvenirs and hand it out to some of their own guffawing ilk, they put themselves without the pale of any one's consideration.

In addition to this, a young girl's diary, with her name inscribed inside, containing matters entire private to her, was also stolen and exhibited in a public place.

No penalty, not even the contents of a shotgun discharged where it would do the most good, is too severe for young scoundrels of this kind.

It is, of course, impossible to secure legal evidence against the young skunks who did this, but if it were possible they should be prosecuted for burglary or anything else that would insure a severe penalty.

LADIES' MUSICAL CLUB

The First Meeting of the Present Season Held This Morning.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The first meeting this season of the Ladies' Musical club, of which Mrs. W. D. Steele is the efficient and popular president, was held at the Elks' club rooms this morning. It was largely attended and a deep interest was taken by every member.

The year's work was outlined and discussed informally, and a number of the members told of their summer outings, the travels of Mrs. J. H. Rodes and Miss Jessie Smith being especially interesting.

There was no music at today's meeting, but the first four programs are well under way, and the first one will be carried out next Wednesday.

HITCHCOCK SHOWS UP

Indicted Actor Who Disappeared Came Into Court This Morning.

New York, Nov. 6. — Raymond Hitchcock, the actor, who disappeared several days ago, after he had been indicted on charges preferred by several young girls, appeared in the criminal court building today and went to the office of the district attorney. He is under bond to appear in court this afternoon.

BODY IS BROUGHT HERE

THE FUNERAL NOT YET ARRANGED

Broken Air Pipe Was Cause of the Mishap—Train Speeding to Higgins' Switch Delayed, Coroner's Jury is Told.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The remains of Andrew A. Graney, the Iron Mountain engineer, who died Monday night at Little Rock, Ark., from injuries sustained in a collision, arrived here this afternoon and were taken to McLaughlin's undertaking rooms, and later were conveyed to the home of Mrs. C. I. Fisher, a sister, 1300 East Fourth street, where they will lie in state until the funeral arrangements are perfected.

Two sisters, Mrs. Maggie McDavies, of San Francisco, and Mrs. McCree, of Bisbee, Arizona, have wired that they desire to be present at the burial, and until they arrive the funeral arrangements will not be made.

"Engineer Andrew A. Graney of the Iron Mountain passenger train wrecked at Higgins' switch Sunday night, died last night. The body was sent to his old home, Sedalia, Mo., tonight, for interment. Edward Jones, the negro also injured in the wreck, died early today. Both boys killed have been identified as residents of Little Rock, David Griffith, 13 years old, and Charles A. Taggart, 14 years old.

"Coroner Vaughter concluded the inquest today. The principal testimony was offered by Conductor Fitzgerald and Engineer Emerson. Both testified that they were running at a good rate of speed and would have made Higgins' switch in time to clear for for the passenger train, except for the breaking of an air pipe, which brought the train to a standstill. The break was repaired and the train started on towards the switch.

A flagman had been placed on the pilot of the engine with instructions to signal the passenger train as they approached the switch. For some reason the brakeman failed to light the fusee given him, and it is the belief that he fell while running forward and lost both fusee and his lanterns.

"Conductor Fitzgerald said it would have been impossible for him to back the train over the heavy grade to the next switch in the rear, but both he and Engineer Emerson acknowledged that they might have held the train at a standstill and sent a flagman ahead to stop the passenger. The coroner's jury adjourned without fixing the blame for the wreck.

HIGH SCHOOL EXERCISES

The Sum of $90 Was Realized From the Art Exhibit.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The Rev. S. S. Martin, pastor of the First M. E. church, conducted the regular weekly exercises at the High school this morning, after which he delivered a brief address that was greatly appreciated by the students.

Mrs. W. H. Boulit recited "Irish Mary" in her usual pleasing manner, and in response to encores gave "Johnny's History Lesson" and "The Pillow Fight."

Miss Letts, principal of the school, told of the art exhibit of the past week, out of which the High school realized $90, which concluded the program.

They Killed a Woodpecker.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Al Baumgartner, the retired tonsprial artist, and Louie Younker, the pill-roller at the Arlington pharmacy, left the city at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon for a hunt west of the city. They returned at 8:30 o'clock last night with a single woodpecker, the result of their combined efforts as marksmen.

Seed Building Is Burned.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Fire gutted the five-story brick building in C street, Southwest, occupied by the seed distribution division of the department of agriculture, and caused damage amounting to $75,000. The fire will delay for several weeks the distribution of flower and vegetable seeds through government sources.

SECRET SAPP WITNESS?

IT IS SAID THAT THE DEFENSE IS KEEPING IMPORTANT EVIDENCE BACK.

HEARD THE GIRL THREATEN SUICIDE

Attorneys for Whitlow Positively Refuse to Be Interviewed Regarding Alleged New Witness.

Iola, Kan., Nov. 5.—Interest in the Sapp murder case here was aroused last night when it became known that the defense was keeping in the dark a witness, who, it is said, would corroborate the details of the story of Samuel Whitlow, charged with the murder of Miss Sapp.

The newly discovered witness will testify, it is said, that he saw Miss Sapp meet Whitlow on two occasions after night and heard her threaten to kill him and herself if he refused to elope with her.

The witness will also testify that Whitlow told her to give up thought of any rash act. Whitlow's attorney's refuse to be interviewed concerning the new witness. Whitlow's trial will be held in January.

KENNEDY-LAYSTROM

Rev. Campbell Will Perform Marriage Ceremony Tonight.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Walter J Kennedy, stamp clerk at the postoffice, and Miss Julia Laystrom, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Laystrom, of 1309 East Thirteenth street, will be united in marriage by Rev. F. Y. Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist church, at 8 o'clock tonight.

The wedding will be an extremely quiet one. Only relatives and a very few intimate friends will attend, and afterwards a supper will be served at the home. The bridal couple will go to housekeeping at 919 West Fifth street.

Mr. Kennedy and Miss Laystrom have many friends in Sedalia, who will join the Democrat-Sentinel in extending hearty congratulations.

CHICAGO STRIKERS TIRING

A Secret Vote in Favor of Returning to the Keys.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—A secret vote of striking telegraphers last night resulted in a decision to recommend to the national executive board that the strike be suspended.

The executive meeting will hold a meeting today and after listening to a report from the committee which has been seeking to make terms with the telegraph companies in New York, will act upon the recommendation. The vote stood 212 for adoption of the resolution and 109 against.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The case of E. R. Adams, charged with assault on a negro employed by Will Rector while he (Adams) was acting as an officer at the state fair grounds, was continued until the 13th inst by Judge Rickman today, owing to the absence of the attorneys in the case.

Acquitted by a Jury.

SUIT WAS COMPROMISED

DEACON PAID THE DAUGHTER OF HIS PASTOR SUM OF $10,000.00.

SHE SUED FOR BREACH OF PROMISE

Date or Marriage Was Fixed, the Wedding Guests Had Begun to Arrive and the Prospective Bridegroom Backed Out.

Youngstown, Ohio, Nov. 6.—A settlement has been made of the breach of promise suit for $10,000 brought by Miss Mercedes Gladden, daughter of Rev. W. H. Gladden, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, of this city, against I. C. Smultz, of New Haven, Pa. The settlement was made for $10,000.

Smultz was a deacon in her father's church when he preached at that place and was twice the age of the girl.

The wedding was to have ocurred September 11 and guests had arrived from various places.

The young lady was getting ready for the ceremony, when word was received that the bridegroom could not comt and for the ceremony to be put off. The next day a letter arrived from him breaking the engagement

He had a daughter as old as Miss Gladden and he gave as a reason for breaking off the engagement that the disparity in their ages was too great.

KANSAS IS ALL RIGHT

Congressman Scott of Sunflower State Optimistic Over Conditions.

Washington, Nov. 6.— Representative Scott, of Kansas, discussed the financial situation today in leaving the White House, and was optimistic as to the present and future conditions. He pictured the state of Kansas as entirely safe and in a prosperous condition.

The only regrettable feature, he said, was that the Kansas bankers had taken too much eastern paper, and now that they wanted to realize on it they were unable to do so. However, he said, the state had enough money to move its crops, and he did not believe the pinch would be felt there.

THE LOTUS CLUB

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The Lotus club has been reorganized for this season, with the following list of officers:

W. H. Cloney, president.
Harry Hawkins, vice president.
Al Cordes, secretary-treasurer.

In addition, an executive and membership committee was named, W. H. Barnett being chairman of the first named committee.

The intention is to give a monthly dance at some hall to be decided on next Monday night, when plans for the season's work will be perfected.

SUTTON WON IN FINE FORM

Champion Won Last Night's Billiard Match With Schaefer.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—George Sutton last night successfully defended his title as champion as eighteen two billiard player by defeating Jacob Schaefer, the score being 500 to 241. It took Sutton fifteen innings to run the game out, his average being 33 5-16 and his high run 232.

Sutton took the lead in the first inning when he made a run of 12 and Schaefer was never able to overtake him

Have $5,000 for Oil Fund.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Harry E. Agee, editor of the Lamonte Record, is here today and informs the Democrat-Sentinel that about $5,000 has been subscribed by the people of that section to prospect for oil and natural gas. Leases on land are now being secured and it is believed the work of prospecting will be commenced within the next few weeks

GOOD ROADS IN MISSOURI.

One township in Cass county held the first road improvement election under the new law last week, and by a very decided majority voted to grade and macadamize twelve miles of road, the cost to be paid by a special tax levy for a period of twenty years.

The cost of the road will approximate $3,500 per mile. When it is remembered that Cass is one of the few Missouri counties that up to the present time has never had a pike road, the significance of the action taken can be realized.

The movement for good roads is spreading, and Missouri is awakening to the fact that the greatest drawback with which it has to contend is the lack of up to date, graded and macadamized thoroughfares, reaching out from the cities to the farms in all directions.

Under present conditions it can be stated as a fact that it costs more to bring a car load of oats, wheat or corn from the field to the nearest town than it does to ship it by rail from the town to the metropolitan market, simply because of the fearful condition of the roads over which it must be hauled by wagon.

The benefit from good roads begins at once, and while the cost can be distributed over a period of twenty years, the farmer commences to realize on them the instant they are finished. This is actual gain in present dollars and cents saved every day, to say nothing of the enhancement of values in lands, which, of course, is fully appreciated only when a sale is made.

The crusade for these improvements throughout the state has been going on for years, and while, like all forward movements, the growth of sentiment has been slower than its most enthusiastic advocates desired, yet it has secured such a strong hold upon the thinking people in all sections that we can look for an era of road building in Missouri in the near future that will speedily retrieve the errors of the past, and place the state in this respect on a par with any other in the Union.

Pettis county should not be backward in this regard, but should be gin planning now for joining in and constructing the great highway from St. Louis to Kansas City.

IS HARRIMAN PLAYING A DEEP GAME?

The action of E. H. Harriman in causing orders to be issued laying off from four to eight thousand employes of the Union Pacific railroad does not help to restore confidence in our national prosperity, nor does it elevate him in the public estimation. Mr. Harriman is a man of deep calculation. His motives are always well concealed and are usually far beneath the surface. He is treacherous and crafty. He is governed by no code of morals either in regard to an end or the means of achieving it. The people have no faith in his sincerity and no belief in his rectitude of conduct.

Mr. Harriman is at war with the government of the United States. He has been branded a stock jobber, a security manipulator and a railway fraud by its authorized representatives. He has been threatened with arrest and prosecution, and he has been exposed as the evil genius of railroad financing. In return he has shown his contempt for the government, for the president, for the courts and for the law. He is bitter in his hatred of the present national administration, because in all his controversies and relations with it he has been worsted. He dislikes the president because the latter has seen fit to attack him through the interstate commerce commission and in his public addresses. He has a grievance against the government and against its executive head. And no person familiar with Harriman's career can doubt for a minute that he intends to retaliate—that he means to have revenge.

He has been suspected of having a hand in speculative flurries that have characterized Wall street's activities ever since he and the government came into collision. It was generally accepted that these disturbances were in the nature of retaliatory measures for agitation against railroad abuses. It is easy to conceive that Mr. Harriman's sudden decision to stop all improvements on the Union Pacific, abandon construction, reduce equipment, curtail expenses, in the face of extra demands upon his own and all other railroads which can not be met and which literally swamp them with business, has a deeper purpose than prudent retrenchment due to business recession.

Doubtless Mr. Harriman is aware that concerted action of this character by the railroads in the midst of the present financial disturbance would do much toward inviting reaction against our prosperity, and with it possibly precipitate a disaster that pessimists have been gloomily predicting.

THAW'S NEW DEFENSE.

Inasmuch as the country has got to prepare itself for the ordeal of retrying Thaw, the announcement from New York that his attorney, Martin W. Littleton, has decided upon a plea of insanity for his client's defense, is a matter of interest. It gives the impression that his case is in the hands of more farsighted lawyers than it was at the first trial. It will be remembered that the firm of Black & Olcott, first solicited by the Thaw family to conduct the defense, offered to take the case only on condition that they be authorized to base it on insanity. The refusal of Thaw to agree to his proposal caused them to promptly withdraw and to decline to have anything to do with the case. Their reputation as lawyers was too high to permit of an attempt to free the prisoner on such flimsy grounds as the "unwritten law" and dementia Americana. They recognized the fact that the tragedy from beginning to end was steeped in moral taint which compromised one side about as much as the other, and they recognized the difficulty, if not the futility, of trying to overcome this handicap before a judge and jury.

The trial of Thaw proved they were right. One of the greatest emotional practitioners of the bar failed, and failed dismally, to impress the jury with his plea of justification. Thaw as an avenging angel did not go worth a fig. He was a poor excuse for a divinely appointed agent of the Almighty, and so the powerful word painting of his great lawyer ended in a fiasco before the jury.

Had his plea been that of insanity and had it been consistently presented and adhered to, it undoubtedly would have been substantiated. District Attorney Jerome's admission alone would have settled the question and the issue would have then been confined solely to whether or not Thaw had regained his mental equilibrium following the culmination of his ailment in the shooting of White? It will doubtless appear to the average jury as it does to the country, that Thaw's mental condition before, at the time of and since the tragedy is the vital point about which punishment for his crime should be determined. Under this rule he has a fair chance of acquittal. No other will avail him now. Evelyn Thaw's story will not bear repetition. Its effect has been spent, and without it "dementia Americana" appears even more ridiculous than it does with it.

SENT OBSCENE CARD

Miss Ida Armbruster Was Bound Over to Grand Jury.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 5.—The first arrest in this part of the country for mailing an obscene postal card was made by United States Marshal Buchner, who took Miss Ida Armbruster, a young woman of La Salle county, into custody.

The postal authorities have previously been content to destroy all postal cards that were objectionable, and the arrest of the sender is a departure that is counted upon, they say, to have a wholesome effect.

The recipient of the card was Miss Anna Shine, of Aurora. The post card is not only suggestive in itself, but it contained words written on the card referring to a visit to Chicago by Miss Shine, which the authorities say was calculated to slander her.

Miss Armbruster was held to the United States grand jury in a bond of $300, and will be given a trial at the December term of court.

RANDOM EXTRACTS

THE WEALTH THAT IS POOR

Long years, to pile up millions
He toiled the world along,
He sold it for a song.

To him the sun was silver,
The moon was wished-for gold,
The stars were dimes and dollars

His name by Love forgot,
He cried to Love—a beggar,
But Love—it knew him not.
—Atlanta Constitution.

Highly Suspicous.

"It is a rule, to which good lawyers usually adhere," says a Philadelphia attorney, "never to tell more than one knows. There was an instance in England, not many years ago, wherein a lawyer carried the rule to the extreme.

"One of the agents in a Midland revision court objected to a person whose name was on the register on the ground that he was dead. The revision attorney declined to accept the assurance, however, and demanded conclusive testimony on the point.

"The agent on the other side arose and gave corroborative evidence as to the decease of the man in question.

"'Well,' was the reply, 'I don't know. It's very difficult to prove.'

"'As I suspected,' returned the barrister. 'You don't know whether he's dead or not.' 'I was saying, sir, that I don't know whether he's dead or not; but I do know this, they buried him about a month ago on suspicion.'"—Harper's Weekly.

Rather Out of Hand.

"I believe in corporal punishment," he said stoutly, in a recent address. "I take no stock in moral suasion. Good, healthy boys under moral suasion have too free a time of it. They get out of hand.

"There is a friend of mine," said Prof. Lorimer with a grim smile, "who is raising a family of six boys with the help of moral suasion. The mild little chap argued about the matter the other night at a club.

"'And do you believe,' said I, 'that moral suasion is better than corporal punishment for big, lusty boys like yours?'

"'Yes,' said my friend.

"For my part, I sneered.

"'And do you mean to say that you have never whipped your boys?' I asked.

His Ham-Like Honesty.

Mrs. M. G. Quackenbos, whom Attorney General Bonaparte has made one of his special assistants in the campaign against the trusts, is a New York lawyer of great brilliance. Mrs. Quackenbos has the faculty of underscoring a remark with an appropriate fable. Thus, discussing the other day the character of a certain notorious millionaire, she said:

"I suppose there is some honesty in the man, but it is hard to find. It reminds me of the railway ham sandwich. A man paused bitterly in the consumption of a very hard, dry railroad ham sandwich, and said to the maid behind the bar:

"'I don't see any ham in this.'

"A minute or two passed. The man's jaws worked gloomily. Then they stopped again, and he said:

The Pickle Look.

Prince Wilhelm, of Sweden, told a New York reporter that Americans all worked hard and looked happy.

"In my country," the prince went on, "we work hard, too, but we have not your happy look. Perhaps it is the climate. At any rate, we tell a story in Sweden that is typical, a story which will give you some idea of our national expression, though not, I'm sure, of our national character:

"A Frenchman visited a Swede in Stockholm, and one morning the two friends set out for a walk. Suddenly the Frenchman exclaimed impatiently:

"'You look as sour as a pickle. Why don't you smile? Why don't you have a pleasant, good-natured air when you are out of doors?'

The People's Choice

Senator LaFollette was talking in Madison about crushing monopolies.

"These concerns," he said, "live on the people, and therefore they try to flatter and delude the people. They pretend that it is on the people's sufferance that their existence depends. But this, really, is not the truth. The people have no choice in the matter."

The senator smiled.

"The people and the corporations," he said, "remind me of a lady and her little boy. I was lunching at this lady's house one day. There was a very large chicken and a very small duck on the table, and the lady, pausing with the carving knife raised, said:

"'Johnny, which will you take, chicken or duck?'

"'Duck,' piped Johnny.

"But the mother shook her head.

"'No, Johnny,' she said, in a firm yet kindly voice, 'you can't have duck, my dear. Take your choice, my darling, take your choice—but you can't have duck.'"

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute" says the doctor. "Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee Imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real Coffee in it either. Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted cerials or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for Coffee. R. C. Dolph & Co.

Death of "Dave" Williams.

David A. Williams, who ran for years as a brakeman on the Lexington branch, later a conductor on the main line of the Missouri Pacific, still later a horseman in Sedalia, died last evening on the Henry Shelton farm, two miles south of Hughesville, of appendicitis, aged 53 years. The burial took place at Houstonia today.

THE CITY HOSPITAL

Editor Democrat Sentinel.

Having just completed a term of three weeks of serious sickness at this hospital, I find it incumbent upon myself to write up this institution for the benefit of your readers and the general public.

The hospital is located on Thirteenth street, one and one-half blocks east of Ingram avenue, and consists of a two-story brick situated in a handsome park of trees, and taking in the whole square.

It contains eleven rooms for patients and these are plainly but cleanly and comfotrably furnished. It is a nice, quiet, restful place, far removed from the turmoil and noise of the streets—an ideal place for a hospital. The place is managed by a matron, Mrs. Nix, and for her I have no praise high enough. Single handed and alone she manages with untiring energy the place and the patients, and sweeps and scrubs and gives the patients their medicine and food, often feeding them with a spoon. She cooks and washes the blankets and clothing of the patients. For Mr. Herman, who died at 12 o'clock last night, she washed thirty-two blankets during his stay of twelve days, not counting the mess of shirts and drawers, which no laundry would accept nor any washerwoman touch—being so horribly nasty. She is up all hours of the day and night, and if any woman deserves a crown of glory and good pay it is she. I understand her pay is but a stipend.

Now the hospital is managed by a number of ladies, Mrs. Wright being at the head of them. I understand the city helps them somewhat and the two city physicians, Dr. Cowan and Dr. Morley, are in charge of the hospital. Both are very painstaking in their efforts to relieve the suffering of the patients.

Now they need money to make repairs to the house, both in the masonry and carpentry line, before the winter sets in, and so, gentlemen, pass the hat and do it cleverly, as you never spent a dollar for a more worthy cause. Very respectfully—
Frederick Putscher.

She Did Not Fear Death.

An old lady on her seventy third birthday once said, "I do not mind getting old, and I do not fear death, but I live in constant dread of paralysis."

"For some time I have been wanting to tell you of the great good your wonderful Sloan's Liniment is doing here," writes Mr. James F. Abernethy, of Rutherford College, N. C. "In fact, all your remedies are doing noble work, but your Liniment beats all. In my eight years' experience with medicine I find none to go ahead of it, having tried it in very many cases. I know of one young man, a brick mason, who suffered from a partial, yes, almost complete, paralysis of one arm. I got him to use your Liniment, and now he can do as much work as ever, and he sings your praise every day. I get all to use it I possibly can and know there is great virtue in it. I have helped the sale of your noble remedies about here greatly, and expect to cause many more to buy them, as I know they can't be beat."

Prominent physicians recommend the Inhalitorium Cabinet treatment for all diseases of the lungs and throat and also for rheumatism, sciatica and skin and blood diseases. Dr. Camp owns the only Inhalitorium Cabinet in Central Missouri, and is treating hundreds and hundreds of people, all of whom are getting relief and will eventually be cured. The Inhalitorium treatment never fails to cure.

Will Sedalia Follow Suit?

The Inhalitorium Cabinet in Dr. Camp's office has proved its success in the treatment of all lung and throat diseases.

Dr. Rhodes is building a warehouse and gasoline house at the rear of his drug store.

J. A. Reeves, our genial depot agent, is putting down a concrete walk in front of his residence.

T. D. Redford recently opened a butcher shop here, and expects a full supply of meats of all kinds.

Rev. J. T. Nevins, of Holden, preached at the Baptist church here last Tuesday night. The church here and the one at Warsaw will probably secure his services as pastor for a year.

Mrs. E. L. Rhodes and daughter, Marie, returned last Tuesday from a week's visit in St. Louis.

Pilot Grove, Nov. 5.

O. C. Worline, of Los Angeles, Cal., and Miss Hattie Paxton, of Bunceton, were guests of Mrs. Lizzie Stites' family Sunday. Mr. Worline is interested in a wholesale coffee house at Los Angeles. He left Missouri several years ago. He has frequently visited here and has many friends who welcome him back. Mr. Worline has been visiting his relatives at Pleasant Hill for a month. He expects to leave soon for his home in California.

The Record's new home is a place of beauty. Editor Watson has a sanctum, light, warm and well ventilated and he's feeling good and writing biographies of his readers. Of course they are all good.

W. A. Scott has re-bought his butcher stock and opened up at the old stand. Mr. Scott sold out nearly a year ago and thought something of leaving Pilot Grove, but failing to find a location he liked as well he has concluded to remain here.

Pilot Grove is wondering if she has a Cassie Chadwick. But who is the woman? The story goes that she forged a check on Wm. Schuster, got $500 in cold cash, that her husband coughed up the money and made good and the rest is mystery deep and silent. Even the Record's sleuths have been unable to tell who the woman forger is or whence she came.

A local institution billed for last Saturday afternoon at West Oakland was postponed a week owing to pressure of other business on the part of the teachers. C. F. Smith, manager, was in town after nursery stock, D. L. Roe was teaching, H. L. Stites was selling Duroc hogs and other teachers failed to put in an appearance. An effort to carry out the program will be made again next Saturday.

RAN INTO FALLEN WIRE

M. B. Coleman's Automobile Did Yesterday Afternoon.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

M. B. Coleman's automobile was slightly damaged in an accident in the 900 block on West Seventh street at about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Coleman was chauffeuring his machine on West Seventh street, and when in front of A. P. Morrison's residence, 821 West Sixth street, a fallen telephone wire caught in the front axle of the machine.

In a minute the wire was twisted around the axle in such a position as to turn the course of the automobile. It swerved to one side of the street, and before Mr. Coleman could bring it to a stop it had run up onto the lawn of Mr. Morrison's home, plowing the wheels into the sod and damaging the tires of the auto. No one was hurt.

Sunday Schools' Work

DR. G. L. SHEPARD, CO. SUPT.-NO. 37.

The October meeting of the Sedalia Sunday School Union was held last Tuesday evening at the East Sedalia Baptist church. The inclemency of the weather prevented a large attendance, but several of those present pronounced it a very good meeting.

There was but one of the three papers planned for the meeting read, but that one, "Consecration," by Mr. Morris Harter was the theme for the evening. It was an excellent paper on a vital subject, as important as any that can come before the Sunday school worker, and the discussion which followed was an earnest and appreciative one, participated in by several of those present. Two other papers, one on "Sunday School Music," by Mr. Alonzo Garber, and one on "Memorizing the Text of the Lesson," by Mrs. J. R. Mize, will be presented at our next meeting.

The rally at the First Congregational Sunday school last Sabbath morning, was a good one. Ten members of the primary class, five boys and five girls, graduated from that class to the junior department, each receiving a neat diploma.

One very important feature of the graded Sunday school is the "supplemental" work required, the committing to memory and reciting select portions of Scripture.

Some thirty or forty years ago it was a popular plan with many Sunday schools to offer prizes for the largest number of verses recited by the scholars. This resulted, in many cases, in reciting a very large number of verses by a few scholars, and the discouragement of the many.

The selection, too, of the passages committed was not the best, and the purpose being solely to recite a sufficient number to win the prize, the general effect was far less beneficial than a careful selection and thorough committal to memory of a fewer number of texts would have been.

The present plan of supplemental work obviates the objectionable features referred to, the selections being judicious and the drill in memorizing being so often repeated that a lasting impression is effected. "Not that which I may remember, but that which I cannot forget constitutes my knowledge."

The State Sunday School convention (forty-second annual) is to meet in Springfield, Mo., November 19th, 20th and 21st. Pettis county should send a large delegation. Mr. Marion Lawrence will be there and many other prominent Sunday school workers.

The entertainment will be the same as was here last year, on the Harvard plan, lodging and breakfast free. Many schools could and ought to send a delegate and pay their expenses. This would be but a light burden on the school, and result, if properly carried out, in great benefit. Try it this yeal.

There should be a club formed in every Sunday school to subscribe for the Missouri, Sunday School News, the official organ of the Missouri Sunday School association. The price is only 10 cents a year when taken in clubs of five or more to one address.

The December number will contain full reports of the convention at Springfield and that number alone will be worth the price of subscription. Get up a club in your school and send to Elmer E. Lacey, general secretary, Victoria building, St. Louis, Mo. Do it now.

The postmaster of Gascoinade, Mo., Daniel A. Rathdrum, Idaho, Nov. 6.—The jury for the trial of Steve Adams, charged with the murder of Fred Tyler, was completed yesterday afternoon.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

THE HALL BIGAMY CASE

Set for November 15—Other Criminal Court Entries.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Arthur H. Hall, a confessed bigamist, formerly owner of a pool and billiard hall here, was arraigned for trial in criminal court today. He waived reading of the information and pleaded not guilty and his case was set for Nov. 15. A special venire of twenty-four men was ordered.

Lorenzo Gravitt, against whom two counts on a charge of burglary and larceny were pending, was given five years in the state reform school on the first count, while the second count was nolled by the state.

In the case of William Thompson, charged with assault, J. W. Jamison and Charles Tyler were recognied as witnesses in the sum of $100 each to appear in court on the first Monday in January.

Recovered From Poisoning.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Mrs. Milton Barde, a victim of ptomaine poisoning on October 28, caused by eating tainted salmon salad, is now able to be out again, and will leave within a day or two for Wichita Falls, Texas, where her daughter, Mrs. Noah Arhart, and child, are both ill.

Mrs. Barde's second son, Charles M. Barde, city editor of the Oklahoma City Times-Journal, who was recently optrated upon for appendicitis, is convalescing slowly, but it will be some time before he can resume work.

WED WEDNESDAY NIGHT

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Harmon Kroencke, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kroencke, and employed as bookkeeper by the Kroencke Implement company, and Miss Verna Cunningham, a popular Sedalia girl, residing at 1000 East Thirteenth street, will be united in marriage at the parsonage of Trinity English Lutheran church by Rev. S. M. Lesher tomorrow night.

The affair will be very quiet, and there will be no attendants. The bridal couple will make their home in this city.

Mr. Kroencke and Miss Cunningham each have many friends in this city, and all will take pleasure in extending congratulations.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Having bought the "Our Store," 118 Ohio street, and the "Peoples' Store," 1000 East Third street, I have consolidated the two and moved both to 118 West Main street. The "Our Store" had the reputation of handling the best line of ladies' and gents' hose in Sedalia; they also had a fine line of neckwear and underwear.

The "Peoples's Store" had the reputation of keeping the best line of gloves and overalls in the city, and the nicest and cleanest store in the country.

In addition to these two stocks, I have put in a large amount of new goods, consisting of dry goods, furnishings, shoes, groceries, etc.

The policy of this store will be, "The Most Value for the Money; Your Money Back if Dissatisfied." I buy and sell for cash.

WOMAN GETS $500 FINE

MRS. STIRES PLEADS GUILTY TO RUNNING MATRIMONIAL BUREAU.

R 61-P.-D. CAUGHT ST. LOUISANS

Judge Stays Fine and Flays Men Who Answer Fake "Ads."—Another Prisoner Got an Immoral Book.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 5.—When Mrs. Marion Stires, indicted for using the mails to defraud in connection with her matrimonial ad "R61-PD," appeared before Judge David P. Dyer, in the United States district court Monday, and was about to plead guilty, she became unnerved completely, and had to be carried into the district clerk's office.

When it became evident to the judge that Mrs. Stires would be unable to face the court, Judge Dyer announced that he would fine the woman $500 and stay the fine on good behaviour, on the plea of her attorney, John L. Martin. She was then discharged from custody.

"I have mighty little sympathy with a man," said Judge Dyer, in passing sentence, "who will get bit on a proposition like this. I think that the fellow ought to have something himself.

"I don't think much of a fool who will seek a wife through advertisements."

Prior to the calling of her case Mrs. Stires sat in the courtroom between her mother and her daughter, 14 years old, and wept continually.

Mrs. Stires' indictment followed her arrest in the business office of the Post-Dispatch, as she was calling for mail, addressed to "R61-PD." Michael Murtagh and Michael Lower, both more than 60 years old, informed the epostal authorities that they had each given her $90 as a sequel to meeting her through the advertisements.

The next prisoner, Henry Binder, who was indicted on a charge of receiving an improper book through the mails, asked for clemency. His lawyer, Carl Uuger, told the judge that Binder was 77 years old.

Postoffice Inspector Fulton said that Binder's bookshop was a repository of the lewd books by his inspectsome pictures found by his inspectors.

"My only regret is that I haven't before me the man who deposited this book in the mails," said Judge Dyer. "It would be some time before he deposited another one."

Binder was sentenced to six months at hard labor and $500 fine.

William G. Gunn was fined $25 for sending a postal card to his aunt on which was inscribed "The House of Scandal."

A WAY THEY HAVE.

The particulars related by this representative citizen of Sedalia are similar to hundreds of others in this city. When there are scores of people, all anxious to tell about the benefits received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, the greatest skeptic in Sedalia must be convinced. Read the following:

M. C. Culley, a railroad foreman, living at 1512 East Fourth street, Sedalia, Mo., says: "I gave my testimony endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago. My confidence in that remedy remains unchanged. At that time I got a supply at the W. E. Bard Drug Co. and have used them since for backache and rheumatic pains in the shoulders. They promptly respond whenever I take them. Doan's Kidney Pills are the best back ache and kidney medicine I ever used."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Burial of George Herman.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The funeral of George Herman, the carpenter, was held from McLaughlin's undertaking rooms this forenoon, after a brief burial service conducted by the Rev. Otto Press, pastor of the German Evangelical church. The burial was under the auspices of the Pioneer Verein, of which the deceased was long a member. The interment was in the city cemetery, the following gentlemen serving as pallbearers: Charles Koock, Clemens Honkomp, sr., Anton Schwartz, Herman Loos, Carl Botz and Robert Fritz, sr.

County Court Proceedings.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

At today's session of the Pettis county court, the criminal fee bills for October, amounting to $880.30, were allowed.

G. H. Bagby, W. E. Files and Hinton Gorrell were appointed commissioners to assess damages in the W. O. Powell road case.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

A fire on the premises of Mr. Jenkins, at Twenty-fourth and Engineer avenue, at 1 o'clock this afternoon, threatened to do considerable damage, but after prompt and good work the blaze was confined to a certain territory, and only about $25 damage resulted.

Mr. Jenkins, who owns a stone quarry in the locality mentioned, started a fire to burn dead grass. The blaze got beyond his control and spread to the premises of G. F. Conger, on which 100 stands of bees are located. A small-sized vineyard, some fruit trees and other trees were burned by the fire, but those helping to extinguish it did so before it reached the hives.

THOS. C. FRANKLIN DEAD

Lived Near Houstonia and Died at Springfield Today.

Thomas Calvin Franklin, a prominent farmer living three miles south of Houstonia, succumbed to an attack of pneumonia at the home of his son, James Franklin, at Springfield, Mo., at 8 o'clock this morning, aged 70 years. The body will be brought to Houstonia for interment.

A week ago yesterday, while visiting at Springfield, Mr. Franklin was taken ill. His family was notified, and his wife went to his bedside, remaining there until the time of death.

Mr. Franklin, besides his wife, leaves six daughters and five sons. He was the last survivor of a family of sixteen children, and was a brother of the late Willis Franklin, former county judge; also a brother of Henry Franklin, now deceased, also a former Sedalian.

REID DENIES TRIBUNE SALE

Ambassador Says No Negotiations Are Even Pending.

London, Nov. 5.—The report from New York that the New York Tribune is to change ownership was emphatically denied yesterday by Whitelaw Reid, United States ambassador to the court of St. James, and owner of the Tribune.

"To begin with," said Mr. Reid at the American embassy, "the Tribune is not for sale and never has been. Also Mr. Hatch, who is rumored to be its purchaser, is a gentleman whom I do not know nor have ever heard of."

"I see," said Mr. Reid, "that Mr. D. O. Mills says he has no interest in the Tribune and knows nothing of its being sold. That is quite true. Mr. Mills has no interest in the Tribune, and knows no more than I, its proprietor, of any sale.

"I have been with the Tribune since 1868, nearly forty years, but, as was publicly announced, I gave up all control of its policy when I entered public life. I have maintained that attitude ever since, and whatever stands the Tribune may take is not dictated by me.

"However, if it was going to be sold I should probably be informed, and I have not been."

(From Thursday's Daily.)

John T. Collins, one of the proprietors of the Collins' Furniture Co.'s business, will be united in marriage to Miss Maybelle Thompson, daughter of I. N. Thompson, a prominent farmer of Greenwood, Mo., and wife, at the home of the bride-to-be at high noon on Tuesday, November 12.

Rev. J. W. Hickerson, a Baptist minister from Liberty, Mo., will perform the ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few friends.

Mr. Rice Miller, of Platte City, Mo., will play the wedding march, while Miss Fredonia Huston will sing, "If Thou Couldst Know."

Mr. Collins is a business man of the very best type and is of pleasing personality. Since being engaged in the furniture business here he has made hundreds of friends, and all will take pleasure in extending congratulations.

His bride-to-be is said to be a sweet and loveable young lady, one of Greenwood's most popular girls, a member of one of Jackson county's leading families, and the Democrat-Sentinel joins in extending congratulations in anticpation of the happy event.

DEATH OF MISS DOBEL

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Miss Julia Dobel, a sister of Patrick Dobel, of this city, and who visited here several years ago, making numerous friends while in Sedalia died of yellow jaundice at her home at Aurora, Ind., this morning, aged 50 years, after an illness of about a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Dobel and son, Walter, were called to Aurora last week, but as the patient did not improve they remained at her bedside, being with her to the last. Burial will be made at Aurora.

JUDGE LONGAN'S WORK

The Fire Insurance Inquiry Begins Today in Capital.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 5.—Judge George F. Longan, of Sedalia, special commissioner to take testimony in the fire insurance company's investigation, arrived here last night.

He will begin the investigation in the supreme court building at 9 a. m. today. A large delegation of managers and counsel for the companies involved, sixty-nine in number, is expected to arrive today.

The taking of testimony will occupy several weeks. Commissioner Longan said that it might be necessary to take some of the testimony in St. Louis and Kansas City.

When you are sick, out of sorts, take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. The most effective remedy. Relieves when others fail. You be the judge, try it. 35 cents, tea or tablets. W. E. Bard Drug Co.

Beckham for United States senator, although there is already some talk of a bolt of some of the democrats to defeat him. These are the result of one of the warmest and what seems to have been one of the fairest elections in Kentucky in many years.

The Usual Killing, Too.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 6.—Clyde Campbell was killed and Michael Murphy, Marion Smith and W. R. Campbell, Clyde's father, were severely wounded at the polls today.

The older Campbell, who was a republican candidate for councilman, was arrested after he had protested against what he termed election frauds. His son came to his assistance and was shot by Murphy. W. R. Campbell then shot Murphy, who returned the fire, wounding Campbell, although himself severely hurt.

The Result in Frisco.

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—Latest returns from the municipal election indicate an overwhelming victory for Mayor Taylor, District Attorney Langdon and the entire democratic good government ticket. Mayor Taylor's plurality is estimated at from 12,000 to 15,000 and that of District Attorney Langdon at about 10,000. Good government league headquarters claim 35,000 votes for Taylor, out of the 58,000 votes cast. Langdon claims 40,000 votes. McCarthy, the union labor candidate for mayor, ran second, as far ahead of Ryan, the straight republican nominee, as Taylor ran ahead of McCarthy.

Precincts are missing and South Market street districts, which were expected to go strong for McCarthy, were a great disappointment to the union labor party, as Taylor carried many of these precincts and Langdon ran ahead of McGowan in these sections also. The election of Taylor, Langdon and a board of supervisors was a great victory for the backers of the graft prosecution and it means the continuation of that prosecution to the end.

Tammany Won in New York.

New York, Nov. 6.—Sufficiently complete returns to make certain the ultimate results show that republican and independence league fusion in New York county was defeated by almost 200,000 majority by a straight democratic ticket; that the independence league ticket for associate justices of the court of appeals was overwhelmingly beaten by the tickets of the republican and democrats, which were the same in this point and that there will be a slight change in the make up of the state assembly. It was a Tammany victory.

In New York City, the Independence league court of appeals ticket was defeated 4 to 1 and the league vote upstate was light. In the city interest centered in the county fight in which the republican and independence league forces opposed the Tammany ticket. James W. Gerard was elected to the supreme court by a wide margin over M. Lyon Bruce.

Thomas F. Foley defeated for sheriff's office the Fusion condidate, Maximillian F. Ihmsen, who is also prominent in the independence league. Early returns gave Foley a big lead, but this later was scaled down until 700 of the 833 election districts in the county showed a margin for the democratic candidate of 25,000.

Saloons Are Still Losing.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 6.—Indications point to the defeat of local option in this city, but it is probable that the rest of the state outside of the city has gone "dry." It is conceded that the vote will be close.

Local Option in Illinois.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—At the first test of the new local option law made in Illinois counties, not under township organizations, seven counties went unqualifiedly for prohibition and in many old license strongholds the prohibition forces were in a measure victorious.

The claim was made at midnight at the headquarters of the anti-saloon league in Springfield that in the sixteen counties voting yesterday, 250 saloons had been forced out of business and that 90 per cent of the territory affected had been brought into the "dry" territory.

In Jacksonville thirty-two saloons were voted out and in Duquoin, where a sharp fight was waged between the two elements, the prohibitionists won by twenty votes.

In the Southern Illinois counties the mining towns without exception went "dry." The following counties had been reported in the prohibition column at midnight: Williamson, Union, Hardin, Edwards, Johnson, Massae, Morgan, Perry Pope, Pulaski, Scott, Union, Wabash, Calhoun and Cass.

Other Election Results.

Nebraska—Republican supreme justice by 12000.

Virginia—Both branches of the legislature democratic.

Massachusetts—Guild, republican, and both branches of legislature republican by 100,000.

Salt Lake City—Bransford, democrat, mayor by about 3,000. This is an anti-Mormon victory.

New Jersey—Katzenbach, democrat, governor, by 10,000.

Pennsylvania—Sheatz, republican, treasurer, by 48,000.

Rhode Island—In doubt, probably democratic.

Maryland—The contest for the governorship is in doubt, owing to lateness of returns. Chairman Vandiver of the deomcratic state comimttee, claims the state by 12,000, and conservative estimate based on meager returns give Crothers, democrat, for governor, a plurality of 6,000 to 8,000.

JUDGE KENNEDY "SANG"

John McGrath Was Toastmaster at Hibernians' Meeting.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Members of division No. 1, of Pettis county, Ancient Order of Hibernians, held an enthusiastic meeting, followed by a social session, at their new hall in the Knights of Columbus home last night. A brief business meeting was had early in the evening, after which a smoker was indulged in.

John McGrath presided as toastmaster, and one of the inspiring numbers on the program was a vocal selection, "A Boy From Tipperary," sung by Judge D. E. Kennedy.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

A young boy, the son of George O. Whitfield, who lives on the Clem Jones farm, 1½ miles south of Longwood, was kicked by a mule and quite badly hurt Wednesday.

Dr. J. E. Mitchell, of Lookout, was called, and later Dr. W. S. Shirk was 'phoned for and drove out, reaching the home at 9 o'clock.

Upon his return he stated that the boy's skull was crushed and pressed down upon the brain, but the patient regained consciousness after an operation and hope of recovery is entertained.

Meeting of Sorosis Ladies.

At Monday afternoon's meeting of Sorosis, Mrs. J. H. Rodes was not present and her paper on "Furs" was not read. Mrs. Cameron Garrett had charge of current topics, and was assisted by Mesdames Carman, Dickman, Hall and Miss Patty Tracy. Miss Florence Whittier, the new librarian, was present and talked most entertainingly, as did also Mrs. F. H. Guenther, formerly of Sedalia, but now of Rockford, Ill., who told of the work of the Outlook club, of which she is a member.

HAD A RED-HOT MEETING

THE CITY FATHERS DID WHEN THEY GOT TOGETHER LAST NIGHT.

WILLIAM D. ILGENFRITZ RESIGNED

(Tuesday's Daily.)

Promptly at 8 o'clock last night Mayor Collins rapped for order at the regular meeting of the city council. Mr. Crawford was absent, coming in at 8:25 o'clock.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and filed.

In behalf of Sorosis, Alderman Andler asked permission that the members of the society might co-operate with the city council in cleaning Sedalia, and making it a thoroughly sanitary city. On motion of Mr. Ilgenfritz, permission was granted the ladies to meet with the street and alley committee to the end stated.

On motion of Mr. DeJarnette, steps were taken to push the West Main street sidewalk-laying.

A remonstrance against establishing a sewer system east of Engineer avenue and north of Third street was presented by Mr. Sullivan. Previously the council passed an ordinance providing for the establishment of a sewer in that locality, and appropriated $75 for each of the six blocks in which the sewer is to be established. Mr. Sullivan's motion last night, was that the council appropriate instead of $75 a block, $150 for each block. Mr. Hugelman seconded the motion.

A lengthy discussion followed the motion, and in a heated argument, participated in by the mayor and several councilmen, Mr. Sullivan inquired of Mr. Hatton, who had been instrumental in having the sewere district established, why the latter had "migrated" from his own ward to meddle in affairs pertaining to his (Sullivan's) ward.

Mayor Collins and Messers. Ilgenfritz and Andler each spoke, opposing the motion, and at each opportunity Mr. Sullivan had a reply pleading that it was a hardship on the people in that ward to defray the expense, and that the hardship imposed on the people by asking them to construct a sewer there under the existing conditions was something that would not occur again in twenty years.

The motion was put to a vote, being carried 5 to 3, Messrs. Ilgenfritz, Crawford and DeJarnette voting "no."

Under the head of "special committee report," several bills were presented, among them being those accruing from the expenses attached to bringing the detectives here during state fair week. Another bill of $40 for police helmets was also brought up, all being allowed.

After allowing the bills, Mr. DeJarnette, who had had very little to say so far during the evening, challenged a remark made by Mr. Sullivan, to the effect that the city police here were underpaid. Mr. DeJarnette said that if the police thought so why didn't they resign, and added that if every police officer was to quit there would be ten applicants for every place by night.

On motion of Mr. Winner, it was ordered that each police officer purchase, at his own expense, a uniform overcoat.

Authority was granted Mr. Hatton, of the cemetery committee, to replace dead trees at the city cemetery.

In appropriate, to-the-point remarks Mr. Ilgenfritz resigned as chairman of the finance committee. His reason for so doing, he said, was that early in the year he suggested that no purchases be made except through the supply committee, but now every officer of the city, from the mayor down to the dog catcher, buys. Mr. Ilgenfritz said also that he did not approve of the council's action in voting $900 for a sewer system, when the city is not able to do so, and under the circumstances he would tender his resignation.

Mr. Sullivan, who was unusually talkative during the session, arose and had a reply for Mr. Ilgenfritz, and after finishing his remarks Mr. Crawford arose and tendered his resignation as councilman from the Fourth ward, saying he did not wish to sit in a council that would do such an outrageous thing as was done in voting $900 for a sewer system.

Following closely on Mr. Ilgenfritz's resignation as chairman of the finance committee, Mr. Crawford's resignation took the council by surprise. All were silent for a moment, faces turned a crimson color, and several downcast eyes could be seen. No action was taken on Mr. Crawford's verbal resignation.

Mr. Andler was the first to speak, and moved that his previous motion to allow all bills be withdrawn, and that all bills allowed, including an appropriation of $900 for a sewer system, be reconsidered and tabled. The motion carried, Messrs. Sullivan, Winner and Hugelman voting "no."

Monthly reports of officers were made as usual, and filed.

An ordinace granting a thirty days' extension of time to complete the paving of Sixteenth street was read and passed.

J. M. Brown, who has the contract for repairing the worn-out asphalt streets, addressed the council, saying he had everything in readinss to begin his work, and expected to do so this week.

On motion of Mr. Hatton, the pay roll of the city employes was allowed.

A meeting of the finance committee for 3 p. m. tomorrow was called by Mayor Collins.

Mr. DeJarnette spoke of the repairs needed at the market house, and a motion was made to advertise for bids for doing the work.

At 10 o'clock council adjourned until 7:30 p. m., Friday, Nov. 8.

A CONNECTICUT MILLIONAIRE NAMES BLACK NERO COACHMAN.

INSTITUTED A SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Bridgeport, Conn., Nov. 5.—A sensational divorce action, in which there are many parallels to the Hartje case in Pittsburg, has been instituted in the supreme court of Fairfield county by Henry J. Lord, a millionaire resident of Trumbull, six miles from this city, in which he accuses his wife of intimacy with her negro coachman, Henry Cameron. Mrs. Lord was Augustina Emanuel, a South Carolina beauty, who on their marriage brought a considerable fortune to the one already owned by her husband.

The Lords are members of the Greenfield Hill Country club, have been known throughout the state among the exclusive country homes of wealthy New Yorkers, and have exhibited a string of thoroughbreds for several years. Their country home is one of the show places of Trumbull, which itself is a colony of rich people. Mrs. Lord is an exceedingly handsome woman and excels in horsemanship.

Mr. Lord left his home three weeks ago, taking with him their 6-year-old daughter, Lucy Johnson Lord, their only child, and in his action for divorce, which became public yesterday, he asks for the custody of the daughter.

GUY FAWKES DAY TODAY

THE BRITISH FOURTH OF JULY BEING CELEBRATED BY THE ENGLISH.

CATESBY ORIGINATED THE PLAN

Thirty-Six Barrels of Gunpowder Put in a Vault to Blow Up the British House of Commons in 1605.

London, Nov. 5.—With the customary fireworks, bonfires and patriotic addresses, parades and demonstrations, Guy Fawkes day, the British "Fourth of July," is being celebrated throughout England today. The occasion of the celebration is the anniversary of the attempt to blow up the British house of parliament, king, lords and commons, by Guy Fawkes and his fellow conspirators in 1605. Although the enthusiasm manifested is not as great as in past years, and the celebration is gradually losing its national and historical significance, the holiday is being generally observed, especially by the children.

The name of Great Britain's greatest and noisiest gala day is somewhat misleading, in that the whole credit or onus of the "gunpowder plot" has been popularly laid on the shoulders of Guy Fawkes, whereas history records that he was far from being the most important of the plotters and appears to have been chosen by the chief conspirators because of his coolness and courage.

Robert Catesby, a scholar and a gentleman, but withal a plotter, was the originator of the plan. Great benefits had been expected by the Roman Catholics from the accession of James I to the throne. The laws of Elizabeth had been unjust and cruel toward them, and they had been led to expect greater tolerance and amelioration of their wrongs from James.

In this they were disappointed. The laws respectiug Catholicism and and Catholics were made even more stringent and enforced with greater brutality and renewed vigor. Popular discontent with this state of affairs led to the gunpowder plot. It was conceived with all the ingenuity of a master mind, and great hardships and dangers were braved by the conspirators. in attempting to carry it to a successful end.

The plotters, all gentlemen unused to manual toil, excavated through nine feet of stone wall in order to get beneath the house of commons, but then found that a vault beneath the edifice was to let. This was engaged by Guy Fawkes, and under cover of darkness thirty-six barrels of gunpowdr were conveyed to the vault.

All was in readiness or the meeting of parliament on November 5, which was to end in a tragedy that would startle the world, when the first disagreement came that was to end the great plot with ignominious failure. The plotters could not agree upon a plan to warn the Catholic members of parliament of the impending doom in which they, otherwise, would be slaughtered with the rest.

Finally an anonymous letter was sent to Lord Monteagle, a Catholic peer, warning him not to be present at the opening of parliament. The author of this letter is not known, although it is commonly believed to have been one of the conspirators named Gresham.

Monteagle took the letteer to Salisbury, who in turn brought it before the king, and this finally resulted in uncovering the gigantic plot. In order that the conspirators might be taken red-handed, the arrest was postponed until the dramatic moment in order to allow Catesby to escape. This he did, although he was shot a few days later while attempting to arouse a rebellion against the king in Worcester.

Guy Fawkes, who was detailed to fire the train which would blow up parliament house, was taken as he was leaving the vault, and the rest of the conspirators were either killed or captured at Dunchurch, where they fled. Fawkes was terribly tortured, and though he was rendered so weak that he could scarcely mount the scaffold, he retained his magnificent fortitude to the end.

By an act of parliament, the members of which had barely escaped a terrible death, November 5 was proclaimed a day of Thanksgiving forever. For two centuries afterward the annual celebrations were marked by riotous excesses, in which drunken men and women paraded the streets all day, carrying effigies of Guy Fawkes, which at night were burned in huge conflagrations to the accompaniment of fireworks, drinking, dancing and mad orgies. The fierce religious hatred once engendered in the breasts of Protestants and Catholics alike on the annual recurrence of Guy Fawkes day has now died out and the anniversary has now become little more than a general holiday, with nearly all thought of its tragic significance vanished from the minds of the present generation.

THE DEMOCRATS CONCEDE DEFEAT

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 7.—Frank S. Katzenbach, jr., democratic candidate for governor of New Jersey, concedes the election of John Franklin Fort, his republican opponent, by 7,000 votes, and made the following statement:

"From the somewhat incomplete returns furnished, I believe that Judge Fort has been elected. I have sent him my congratulations. I greatly appreciate the support given me and the efforts of my friends in my behalf."

Late returns do not change the complexion of the state senate, which gives the republicans 14 to 7 for the democrats. It was believed until late yesterday that the state's vote was very close, with Katzenbach leading. The predictions were for a democratic victory by several thousand votes.

Mr. Katzenbach ran on a reform ticket. The republicans were accused of being influenced by the railroads and big corporations and many charges of graft were made. While defeated by 7,000 majority Mr. Katzenbach on the reform ticket cut the republican majority from 51,000 votes for governor in the last election.

Rhode Island Figures Grow.

Providence, Nov. 7.—The democrats carried Rhode Island by a greater majority than was anticipated. It was reported yesterday afternoon that James H. Higgins' majority for governor was 2,307, but later reports show that this will be increased.

It developed later that Senator George Peabody Wetmore will have more opposition in his return to the senate than was at first believed, but the fact that both branches of the legislature are so strongly republican indicates that his election is almost certain.

Delaware Only Half "Dry."

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 7.—The vote on the liquor question in the four districts of the state shows that there was a majority in the state as a whole for license of from 2,000 to 2,200, but the actual result is that license prevails in two districts and prohibition in the other two.

The license districts are the city of Wilmington, with a population of about 90,990 and about 250 bars, and Rural New Castle county, with a population of about 4,000 and about thirty drinking places.

The prohibition districts are Kent county, with a population of 35,000 and about twenty drinking bars, and Sussex county, with 40,000 population and about twenty-five drinking bars.

Now for 3-Cent Action.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 7.—The full significance of the election of Tom Johnson over Congressman Theodore E. Burton for mayor was realized fully yesterday.

The mayor is now in absolute control of every branch of the city government. He carries through with him twenty-five of the thirty-two councilmen, which makes it unnecessary to dicker with republican members of the city council for support. The latest figures give Johnson 48,399, Burton 39,026

The people of Cleveland felt yesterday the full effect of Johnson's victory when the Cleveland electric railway stopped the sale of tickets at the rate of seven for twenty-five cents, resuming the old rate of eleven for fifty cents.

A number of franchises of the Cleveland electric expire within the near future and as the routes are given up it will be the policy of Mayor Johnson and the city council to grant franchises to the 3-cent fare lines.

SMALLPOX AT CAPITAL

Warden Hall Closes Prison Doors to Visitors.

Jefferson City, Nov. 5.—Owing to the existence of several cases of smallpox in he city, Warden Hall yesterday closed the doors of the penitentiary to visitors. According to the city authorities, there are but five cases of smallpox in town, and all these are isolated and under strict quarantine regulations.

A child died from the disease several days ago, the first fatality since the epidemic made its appearance here last winter. In one house, fronting on the river, just across the street from the capitol grounds, twenty-two persons are living, and there are two convalescent smallpox patients in the house.

With a single exception, the disease has appeared only among the poor residents of the city, and in no instance has anyone who was ever vaccinated been affected. Two members of the legislature and two legislative employes were afflicted with smallpox last winter and perhaps thirty persons had the disease at that time.

Dealers Can Sell Quail.

Some of the Sedalia dealers appear to labor under the belief that under the new game law they are not permitted to sell quail. This is an error. During the open season the law permits the sale of quail killed in the county, but prohibits the sale of this class of game that is shipped in from outside the county.

OBSCENE POSTAL CARDS

SENTENCE FALLS ON L. S. VAN HOOK

J. A. Blair and A. P. Miller, Who Sold Medicine to Women, Fare in a Similar Manner in Kansas City Court.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 7.—L. S. VanHook, Joseph A. Blair and A. P. Miller were yesterday sentenced by United States Judge Smith McPherson to a year and a day in the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth. Van Hook for selling obscene postal cards and the other two for using the mails to sell proscribed medicines to women. The effect of the sentence was to stun the prisoners, who had been prepared to expect the usual fine of $50 and costs.

Miller's wife and little daughter sat by him at the time the punishment was fixed, and all were transfixed with amazement. Judge McPherson was most severe in his summing up, taxed the costs against the prisoners, remanded them to the custody of the United States marshal and prevented their getting a respite to wind up their affairs. They had all pleaded guilty and so were beyond the pale of appeal or bond. A. H. Coyle, indicted with Miller and Blair for the illicit medicine trade, had pleaded guilty and had got off with a light fine.

After Blair had been examined by the judge himself for ten or fifteen minutes a tall old man who said he was Postoffice Inspector McAfee rose to tell what he knew about VanHook. McAfee draws a salary of $1 a year from the government, but something more substantial from a Boston Society for the Prevention of Vice. The Boston man had run VanHook to ground in Kansas City and he told the judge about some of the postals. VanHook asserted that he had not sent out any.

"I had just bought them," he said.

In summing up Judge McPherson said:

"This is a dirty, mean and abominable business. Mail comes to the parlor table and it is opened by women clerks in our offices. There is not a school child that has not access to this federal department of the postoffice. Yet here comes a man like this man VanHook and makes the mail an affliction. No man outside of an insane asylum or a repository for idiots but knows that the action of selling obscene postal cards or other pictures is indefensible. As for this other business, the medicine business, it is as filthy. The plea of ignorance is totally lost, because these men were not ignorant."

HEAD-ON COLLISION

Missouri Pacific Engines Crash Into Each Othere at Panama.

Two Missouri Pacific engines, Nos. 288 and 289, had a head-on collision at Panama Saturday night at 7:50 o'clock, says Monday's Nevada Post. Engineer G. W. Smith and Conductor Avis had charge of engine 289 and Engineer G. M. Watson and Conductor Glascoe were in charge of engine 288.

That the air on engine 289 would not work is given as the cause of the collision.

The pilots of both engines were knocked off, damaging the engines to the amount of about $300. Neither of the engines left the track. Engine 289 hit engine 288 as the latter was trying to back out of engine 289's way.

Engineer E. W. Myers, who was dead heading to Nevada, has his forehead cut. Conductor Avis's ankle was twisted. F. F. Hudleson, a company painter, and F. P. Mullen, of the bridge department, had their faces skinned from falling from the train.

DEATH OF AN ENGINEER

Andrew Graney, Who Was Born and Reared in Pettis County.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Andrew Graney, a son of John Graney, of Sedalia, and a brother of Mrs. C. J. Fisher, 1300 East Fourth street, and Mrs. B. Saner, 1118 East Tenth street, this city, died at his home in Little Rock, Ark., last night at 7 o'clock, aged about 48 years, death following an operation.

Mr. Graney was born and reared in Pettis county, but had been working for the Iron Mountain road for the past twenty years. He was never married.

Mr. Graney was a member of the B. of L. E. and formerly belonged to the K. of P., but of late years had not been affiliated with that order. There was no more popular man on the road than "Andy" Graney.

The remains will be brought to Sedalia for burial, and the time and place of the funeral will be anounced in the Democrat-Sentinel later.

COMES TO LIFE IN COFFIN

Mrs. Harzell, in Trance, Awakens During Services for Dead.

Monterey, Mexico, Nov. 5.—While the minister of her church was pronouncing funeral services over the supposed dead body of Mrs. Fred Harzell, of this city, the woman stirred, sighed and then sat up in the coffin, to the astonishment of the relatives and friends.

The minister fainted, the pallbearers and friends fled from the room, and only the husband remained to assist Mrs. Harzell from the box whih had so nearly proved her tomb.

Several days ago Mrs. Harzell fainted and was pronounced dead by several physicians. With the exception of a slight weakness and an unnatural pallor, she seems none the worse for her remarkable experience.

MISSISSIPPI STATE FAIR

It Opened Today and Will Not Close Until the 16th.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 5.—Final preparations were completed yesterday for the formal inauguration of the Mississippi state fair.

The work of installing the agricultural, industrial and live stock displays is now nearing completion, and when the gates swung open today, the early visitors saw the best exposition of the varied resources of Mississippi ever attempted.

The fair will remain open until November 16, inclusive, the program including many special days. The Mississippi Derby, to be run November 15, is the feature of the racing program.

Killed 22 Squirrels.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Police Officer W. F. Farmer spent yesterday hunting with James Lackey, a well known resident of Clifton City, and returned home last night with fifteen squirrels, having left eight at Mr. Lackey's home. He had an excellent trip, so he says, and enjoyed the expedition very much.

A PECULIAR SITUTATION EXISTS

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 7.—The landslide in Kentucky politics Tuesday, which swept the democratic ticket and office holders completely off the political map, also forbodes defeat for Governor J. C. W. Beckham in his fight to succeed United States Senator James B. McCreary.

The incomplete returns indicate that the democrats will have a small majority, from six to eight, on joint ballot, in the next general assembly, and it is on this that Governor Beckham relies to send him to the senate. But before this has been accomplished it is evident that the governor will have to consider some of the defeated candidates on the state ticket, who lay their downfall to the attitude of the governor, and openly boast that he will not go to the senate, but that, on the contrary, when he steps down and out for his successor, August E. Wilson, on Dec. 2, he will then and there retire to private life.

The returns from many of the counties throughout the state show that where Judge Harger, the democratic candidate for governor, got a majority, the republican candidate for th legislature was elected, and the defeated democrats say this was an open rebuke to the governor by the people, who voted to elect a republican legislator in order to defeat the governor's candidacy for the senate.

While all of the defeated candidates do not lay the blame of defeat to the governor, a majority of them believe it was his attitude on various questions that cost them the state.

One thing in particular which causes bitterness for the governor is the attitude of Beckham toward Henry Watterson, which resulted in his paper remaining entirely out of the fight during the campaign, and it is said this resulted in a loss of 20,000 votes for the democratic ticket.

This was the first political campaign ever fought in Kentucky when Editor Watterson and his paper were not fighting hard for the success of the democratic ticket, but this year there was never a word from the pen of Watterson on the campaign, all of which, democrats say, was due to the bitterness of Mr. Waterson for Governor Beckham.

One reason assigned for the defeat of the democratic ticket by the rank and file democrats who supported Wilson and the republican ticket is the fact that Wilson promised the people of Kentucky to have W. S. Taylor and Charles Finlay brought back from Indiana and tried for the alleged muder of William Goebel.

The people of Kentucky are anxious to have this question settled, once and for all, and as it was apparent that the democrats now in power proposed to continue to ride into office on the Goebel killing, the people turned to the republican party to relieve them of the trials.

Mr. Wilson has promised to return the fugitives on requisition, if they refuse to come back voluntarily, and he further promised to give them fair and speedy trials, and allow the verdicts to stand if they are affirmed by the appellate court.

The fourth trial of Caleb Powers will begin at Georgetown next Monday, and will be presided over by Judge John S. Morris, appointee of Governor Beckham. Powers said last night that he did not look for any assistance from Governor-elect Wilson, but that he would be able to pove his innocence in a fair trial before an impartial jury.

Will Return to Kentucky.

Indianapolis, Nov. 7.—Friends of W. S. Taylor and Charles Finlay who are in a position to know, assert that Taylor and Finlay will return to Kentucky.

Taylor and Finlay did not retire until 2 a. m. Wednesday, when they were assured by long distance telephone by the chairman of the republican state committee at Louisville that Kentucky is absolutely "safe."

Ex-Governor Taylor wrote out this statement for the United Press:

"The result in Kentucky is a very benediction for a long suffering people. It signifies the triumph of a sentiment that runs far deeper than ordinary politics. Truth, love, justice and mercy are victors over hate, force and fraud. The night has been long and dark, but the day has dawned at last. Words cannot express my deep sense of gratitude.

A WOMAN'S SCALP FOUND

DOG LED TO DISCOVERY OF DECOMPOSED BODY ON THE GROUND.

HAD BEEN DEAD SEVERAL MONTHS

Police Believe Woman Had Hanged Herself by Self-Made Rope—Mystery May Never Be Solved.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 5.—The police and residents of O'Fallon, Ill., 15 miles east of St. Louis, are endeavoring to establish the identity of a woman, dead several months, whose body was found by hunters beneath a tree 200 yards from the St. Louis & Vincennes road. The spot is one and one-half miles southeast of O'Fallon.

The authorities are positive that the woman committed suicide, and are not proceeding on any other theory.

The body was found by E. J. Linde, William Ammann and Emile Scheibert, who were hunting in the vicinity. In reporting the find Linde said:

"My dog had started a rabbit and chased him into a brush pile. I followed, and , looking up, saw suspended from a limb by a rope made of braided strips of calico, the scalp of a woman.

"On the ground I saw a human skull, then on the brush pile was the body.

"I called to Ammann and Scheibel and told them of my discovery. We then returned to O'Fallon and notified Deputy Coroner Schwartz."

Deputy Schwartz, accompanied by Linde, returned to the scene and a careful examination indicated that the deceased had committed suicide by hanging.

It is supposed that the woman braided the rope, and, tying one end around her neck, stepped on a limb about three feet from the ground.

Then reaching up she tied the other end of her rope on a limb about six feet higher: Stepping down, she slowly strangled to death. She was about 40 years old.

YOUTH KILLED HIMSELF

HE HAD BEEN "JILTED" THREE TIMES IN THAT NUMBER OF HOURS.

SUPPOSED "AFFINITIES" SAID NAY

It Was Then That Harry Kaslik, Aged 21 Years, Returned to His Home and Fired a Bullet Into His Brain.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 5.—Disappointed because three girls refused to marry him, Henry Kaslik, aged 24 years, a tailor, shot and killed himself.

One of the girls whom he declared were his affinities, was but 15 years of age, and he was warned from the house by her mother.

Kaslik told his family of his intention to kill himself, but his brothers and sisters paid no attention to him. One of his brothers had a terrific struggle with him in an attempt to take his revolver away just before he killed himself.

At the home of Anna Hejduk he showed the girl his bank book, told her she was the only girl in the world for him and asked her to marry him. She refused, thinking he was intoxicated.

Helen Dillonsky, the second girl he visited, is but 15 years old. When he popped the question to her he was unceremoniously ushered out of the house by her indignant parents.

At the Novena girl's home he was told that the young woman had had other offers which she considered more advantageous.

Over a Score of Others Are Badly Injured, Some of Whom Will Not Recover—Two Boys Among the Victims.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 4.—Five persons were killed and a score more injured in a head-on collision between a north-bound passenger train and a southbound freight near Riggins Switch, on the Iron Mountain railroad, last night.

The dead are: Gady Burk, a negro; Postal Clerks Alvin D. Brumbie and White, a negro tramp and two unknown white boys.

The injured include Alfred Piper, 16 years old, of Little Rock, who is fatally injured, and twenty-five others, some seriously. Their names have not as yet been ascertained.

DEATH OF GEORGE HERMAN

(From Monday's Daily.)

George Herman, a well known carpenter of Sedalia, died of general debility at the city hospital at 11:45 o'clock Sunday night, aged about 70 years. He had been ailing for several months and bedfast for three weeks.

Mr. Herman was born in Germany and came to America in 1867. Five years later he came to Missouri, settling in this county, where he had since resided. A carpenter by trade, he had done work of that nature for many of the older residents of this city.

Some fifteen years ago he was married to a Mrs. Berger, but soon after they were divorced. He leaves no relatives and belonged to no society other than the Pioneer Verein.

For more than twenty years he had occupied a room over the Messerly store at Second and Osage streets and took his meals at the Kaiser hotel. He was known to all of the older residents of the city, and with all acquaintances his word was as good as his bond.

Funeral services will be held at McLaughlin's undertaking rooms at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. Rev. Otto Press, pastor of the German Evangelical church, will officiate and interment will be in the city cemetery.

The Pioneer society will meet at their hall at 7 o'clock tonight to select the pallbearers and make other arrangements for the burial.

HAD NIPPED A $15 FUR

Detected Leaving Theater and Made to Return It.

An unknown man was detected in a theft at the Nickelodeon theater, adjoining the Smoke House, one night the past week, but for reasons unknown he was not arrested.

He was seen to leave the playhouse, with some article hanging down from the inside of his coat.

The stranger was halted, and under his coat was found a $15 ladies' fur. He returned the article and was released.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

HE WAS IN HIS OWN FARM WAGON

(Sunday's Daily.)

T. V. Martin, a prominent farmer ilving on the old Luckett farm, one mile north of Dresden, was found dead, lying in the bed of his wagon, near his home at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The entire left side of his underclothing was scorched, while the case of his watch was melted. Dr. D. P. Dyer, of Dresden, held an inquest there yesterday afternoon and in accordance with the facts, the jury returned a verdict that Mr. Martin died from being struck by lightning.

Mr. Martin was 60 years old and lived alone on his farm. Friday afternoon, during the lightning and rain storm, he was seen gathering corn in his field. That was the last seen of him until T. J. Evans, of Dresden, who was hunting on Mr. Martin's land, discovered the body.

The team of horses pulling Mr. Martin's wagon stood at spot where the accident occurred, also the dead man's faithful dog was lying beside the wagon. Mr. Martin's hat was lying on the ground.

The dead man leaves several children, among the number being a son, Dr. Martin, formerly of this city, who was a candidate for coroner at the last election.

WILL OPEN DOCUMENT

Mrs. Chadwick's Deposition Will Be Used in Trial of Case.

Pittsburg, Nov. 4.—The deposition of the late Cassie L. Chadwick, which was made in connection with the suit of Mrs. Jutte against Hoffstot and Friend, president and vice president of the Pressed Steel Car company, charged with conspiracy, was ordered opened today by Chief Justice Mitchell of the state supreme court. Efforts were made by counsel for Hoffstat and Friend to keep the document sealed, but they were unsuccessful.

Former Sedalia Girl to Wed.

Miss Nellie C. Ross, a former Sedalia girl, and niece of Mrs. F. E. Hoffman, Sr., will be married at her home at Kansas City on November 12 to William Ludlow, manager of a large piano house at Indianapolis. Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman and Mr. and Mrs. George Miller will attend the wedding.

Lost Quickly Settled.

F. E. Hoffman, of Sedalia, representing the Fire Insurance Company of the State of Illinois, was here Thursday to adjust the loss of Mrs. Emma Olson's barn that burned Tuesday night, says the Marshall Democrat-News. It was certainly a quick settlement, the embers being still alive.

MARRIED A SEDALIA GIRL

MR. RUSSELL GREINER, A POPULAR DEMOCRAT OF KANSAS CITY, MO.

WRITTEN OF IN THE SUNDAY POST

Born in Xenia, O., in 1869, He Came to Missouri in 1889, and Ten Years Ago Married Miss Grace Poteet, of Sedalia.

Under the Caption, "Six Rising Democrats; Several Young Men Who Are the 'Future Greats' in Missouri's Greatest Party,' the Kansas City Post of Sunday prints the picture of a gentleman who married a popular Sedalia girl, together with the following sketch:

Russell Greiner was born in Xenia, Ohio, in 1869 and came of good old democratic stock. His father, a staunch democrat, voted the straight ticket for fifty-eight years, during which time his party only succeeded in electing one of its nominees.

When one votes a losing ticket for over half a century it means deeply set convictions—they have become a part of the man. Russell Greiner received his education in the public schools of Xenia and came to Kansas City in 1889 to become a reporter on the old Kansas City Times.

In 1891 he became connected with the Union Bank Note company, then a small establishment at 304 Delaware street, and he has been with that concern until the present date, participating in its growth to its present proportions. In 1901 he became vice president and a director and since then has had entire charge of the sales department.

In 1897 he was married to Miss Grace Poteet, of Sedalia, Mo., and two daughters were born of this union. Mr. Greiner is an officer and an active member of the Linwood Boulevard M. E. church. Always active in politics and yet never a candidate for any office Russell Greiner has won for himself the respect and confidence of the democracy of Kansas City.

ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE

Young Girl Swallowed Carbolic Acid Sunday Night.

A 20-year-old girl, of well known parentage, who has been going from bad to worse for several months, due to continual roaming up and down Ohio street, attempted to commit suicide at her rooming house, 340 West Pettis street, at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening, the she says, to "infidelity" on the part of her "lover."

She had purchased a small quantity of carbolic acid, and addressing her lover said: "I'm going to die in your arms."

Before he could make her desist she had swallowed two teaspoonsful of the acid.

Dr. W. G. Cowan was summoned and administered restoratives and she was soon revived. Her mouth was quite badly burnt by the acid.

Had Good Job in Denver.

Ed Mullaley, former pressman at the office of the Sedalia Printing Co., who, with his wife, left three weeks ago for Denver, Colo., to reside, writes friends here that he has secured a good position and likes Denver exceedingly well.

The state of Mrs. Mullaley's health made a change of climate necessary, hence their departure from Sedalia, where they have a legion of friends who will always wish them well.

A SEDALIA BOY INJURED

FATHER LIVES IN EAST SEDALIA

Son Became Involved in a Quarrel and Then Traveled Thirty Miles Before Wounds Were Dressed.

Kansas City, Nov. 4.—With a gash in his throat five inches long and an inch and a half wide, Dot Millsap, a teamster, traveled by himself thirty miles yesterday to a hospital. Then an hour after he had been placed upon an operating table, given an anesthetic, and the wound closed by twenty-five stitches, he put on his coat and hat and walked to his home, 1405 Olive street.

About 8 o'clock last night Detectives Boyle and Oldham of the city police were standing at Fourth and Main streets when they observed Millsap approaching from the direction of the Grand Central depot, staggering as if intoxicated. As the man drew near they noticed that he was covered with blood and was faint from exhaustion. When they examined him they found a terrible gash in the left side of his face, beginning just above the ear and extending down across his throat. They hurried him to the emergency hospital.

Further examination at the hospital revealed that the chief veins and arteries of the throat had escaped injury. Dr. Gist, house surgeon, and Dr. St. Elmo Sanders, city physician, operated upon the man at once. A few minutes after Millsap had been taken from the table he recovered from the effects of the chloroform and his own urgent request was allowed to walk away.

Millsap said he had been cut in a fight with Albert and George Deister and another man at Linden, Mo., thirty miles north of Kansas City. The quarrel was the result of an old feud, he said. According to his story he was cut about 5:30 o'clock. He had to wait for a train, and it was nearly three hours after that he received surgical attention, and the amount of blood he lost in that time must have been enormous. His endurance and vitality under the circumstances is considered remarkable by the surgeons.

Millsap is employed as a teamster by the People's Ice company. His father lives at Eighteenth and New York avenue, Sedalia. He is but 19 years old.

SUSPECTS WERE FREED

WAS NO EVIDENCE THAT WOMEN BLEW UP JOPLIN NEWSPAPER OFFICE.

THE GRAND JURY TO INVESTIGATE

Joplin, Mo., Nov. 4.—After a wide open inquiry that went into nearly every public dispute in Joplin, the four women arrested in connection with the blowing up with dynamite of the Joplin News-Herald were released by Justice Earl Saturday afternoon, on the ground that insufficient evidence had been introduced.

Among the witnesses Saturday were Gilbert Barbee, majority stockholder, Dan Dugan, business manager, and Bart B. Howard, editor of the Joplin Globe; John Wenzel, a contractor; Edward Yates, a hotel keeper; H. B. Marchbank, a cement man; Dr. J. D. Pifer and J. E. Garm, teller in the Joplin National bank.

At the hearing a week ago those connected with the News-Herald answered every question put to them regarding their movements, condition of the business, etc.

Mr. Barbee and Mr. Howard refused Saturday to indicate who were meant by certain articles and editorials that had been printed in the Globe.

Mr. Dugan testified that he had told John M. Malang, state senator, that he believed Gilbert Barbee would spend the last cent he had to drive P. E. Burton, editor of the News-Herald, out of Joplin.

After a severe cross examination Mr. Barbee admitted that the day prior to the first preliminary he had printed an editorial paragraph "roasting" a deputy constable who had been dismissed and had then sent him to George Graystone, attorney for Mr. Burton.

This ex-deputy constable told Graystone that Minnie St. Clair, one of the defendants, wished to turn state's evidence and incriminate certain persons.

Graystone, accompanied by the deputy and the prosecuting attorney, visited the St. Clair house, but promised her nothing. Barbee said that the deputy had reported to him regarding the interview and had told him that George Clay, attorney for Minnie St. Clair, Joseph Myers, chief of police, and his assistant, Jacob Cofer, were secreted in hearing distance of the interview.

P. E. Burton, editor of the News-Herald, was identified by John Wenzel as a man whom he saw running north on Pearl street one and one-half blocks west of the News-Herald office, the night the newspaper plant was dynamited, and soon after the explosion. Wenzel is a general contractor, a member of the firm of Dieter & Wenzel, which is building the new Connor hotel.

Col. C. E. Yates, proprietor of the Yates hotel, also testified that he saw a man running north on Pearl street following the explosion and testified to a resemblance between this man and Mr. Burton.

H. B. Marchbank, secretary-treasurer of the Missouri Concrete company, testified that he saw Mr. Burton in the Lawrence book store, near the News-Herald office shortly after 10 o'clock.

Mr. Burton as a witness in the preliminary hearing last week testified that he was at home when the explosion occurred.

MORE TROOPS ORDERED

Two Squadrons Are Sent to the Seat of Present Indian Uprising.

Omaha, Nov. 4.—Orders were received at army headquarters to dispatch the remaining two squadrons of the Second United States cavalry, composed of eight companies, to Thunder Butte, S. D., at the earliest possible moment, and the command left Fort Des Moines last night.

It is not known why these additional troops are sent, but it is thought the idea is to prevent any portion of the Sioux tribe from making common cause with the Utes.

Now, at this day comes the plaintiff herein, by his attorneys, Barnett & Barnett, and files his petition and affidavit, alleging among other things that defendants are not residents of the state of Missouri, and cannot be served with the ordinary process of law in this state;

Whereupon it is ordered by the clerk of said court in vacation that said defendants be notified by publication that plaintiff has commenced a suit against them in this court, the object and general nature of which is to have the plaintiff's record title perfected in and to the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section fifteen (15), township forty-seven (47), range twenty-two (22) in Pettis county, Missouri, west of the fifth principal meridian, and to have the title decreed to be in plaintiff by limitation, and to have all record and apparent title of the defendants divested out of them and vested in the plaintiff. And it is alleged in the petition that there are persons to-wit: The unknown heirs of Joseph Davis, who are interested in the subject matter of the petition whose names he can not insert herein because they are unknown to him, but the interest of said unknown heirs is derived from Joseph Davis, they as such heirs having inherited whatever interest said Joseph Davis had at time of his death, in said land, the said Joseph Davis having entered this land from the United States, and the deed by which he conveyed it to the party under whom plaintiff claims being defective in that the description and acknowledgement are defective, and unless the said defendants, Joseph Davis, Rebecca Davis and the unknown heirs of Joseph Davis be and appear at this court at the next December term thereof, to be begun and holden at the court house, in the city of Sedalia, in said county, on the first Monday of December next, and on or before the first day of said term, answer or plead to the petition in said cause, the same will be taken as confessed, and judgment will be rendered accordingly.

And it is further ordered, that a copy hereof be published, according to law, in the Weekly Democrat-Sentinel, a newspaper printed and published in Pettis county, Missouri, and designated by the plaintiff, four weeks successively, the last insertion whereof shall be at least fifteen days before the commencemnt of the said December term of this court.

GUESTS WERE IN PANIC

THEY FLED IN THEIR NIGHT CLOTHES

A Number of the Half-Clad People Leaped From the Fire Escape Landings—The Housekeeper Overcome.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Some fifty guests of the Plaza hotel, North avenue and Clark street, fled from their rooms in confusion early this morning, when fire broke out in the basement of the hostelry. The building was quickly filled with smoke and many of the guests had difficulty in reaching the street. Several men and women fell down the fire escape to the first floor from where they were assisted by firemen.

The fire, which started in the laundry, spread rapidly and a few minutes after the alarm was sounded the entire building was filled with smoke. The hotel is eight stories high and has accommodations for about 1,200 persons. The guests, most of them thinly clad, sought refuge in stores nearby. Some of them had been slightly affected by the smoke. Several women becoming exhausted, were carried down ladders and fire escapes by firemen.

Arthur Hart, the night clerk, and two bell boys nearly lost their lives in warning the guests of their danger and assisted many in reaching the street. When the firemen reached the building the fire escapes were crowded with frightened men and women. Some of them jumped from the second floor landings without waiting to be taken down. Several were severely bruised. Mrs. N. E. Slanger, the housekeeper, was overcome with smoke while warning the guests and had to be carried out. There were no fatalities.

The fire was soon extinguished. The property loss was about $5,000.

Were Entertained by the Misses Rudy Friday Night.

The members of the Theta Kappa Phi sorority, with male escorts and a few outsiders, enjoyed a delightful social function at the home of Misses Gwendolyn and Gladys Rudy Friday night. The affair was a masquerade party, each guest being costumed.

Sandwiches, potato chips, olives, salads and hot chocolate were served.

STRIKE LOSS IS LARGE

"Fifteen thousand men and women have been on strike for nearly thirteen weeks. The loss in wages alone has been $2,225,000 and the loss in receipts to the telegraph companies is about $8,000,000.

"One cost of the strike to the Western Union has been the shrinkage to the vanishing point of a surplus of $17,000,000. The Postal has expended a surplus of $5,000,000.

"The greatest loss to both companies has been in the value of their stocks. The Western Union stock of $150,000,000 dropped 2 per cent, while Postal stock went down from 74¾ to below 50. The public has been inconvenienced beyond money value.

"The gain to the strikers has been education and the respect of the employers. The public has learned how completely it is at the mercy of corporations which withdraw a service that is necessary to the good of the country rather than increase the wages of their employes, when they are making at least 30 per cent on their actual investment.

"The last government report estimates the total cost of replacing all the physical property of the Western Union at $15,000,000. It is capitalized at ten times this amount and paying 5 per cent on its stock, or really 50 per cent on the actual investment.

"The same earnings and valuations are applicable to the Postal, except that the total stock valuation is $91,000,000."

MARRIAGE PLAN MAY FAIL

Some Doubt That the Catholic Church Will Agree to Three Ceremonies.

Newport, R. I., Nov. 2—Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, Count Szchenyi, her fiance, and her mother, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, are due in New York today from Camp Sagamore in the Adirondacks, where they went on a visit a week ago.

The latest inormation is that there has been a change of plans for the wedding and that it will be in Newport. Instead of three, there will be only two ceremonies. It was reported there would be a marriage by an Episcopal clergyman, one by a Catholic clergyman and then a civil marriage. The Rev. William B. Meenan, of St. Mary's Catholic church, said today that according to the laws of the church there could be a civil ceremony, but that no Catholic clergyman would perform the marriage ceremony, knowing that it was to be followed by another similar ceremony in a church of another denomination

BANDIT ROBS HOTELS

One Guest, Who Resisted, Is Almost Cut to Pieces.

Prescott, Ariz., Nov. 4.—A lone highwayman armed with a knife Saturday night entered five hotels in this city, fatally wounded one of the guests who offered resistance and made his escape after robbing a score of people encountered during his single handed raids.

The man first made his appearance in the Schuerman hotel, where he was discovered by Robert Lutely. The latter resisted when the robber made demands for valuables, and was almost cut to pieces.

Ten minutes later the robber entered the Brinkmeyer hotel, where he secured considerable booty. In rapid succession he paid hasty visits to the Head, Cliff and Globe hotels, in each instance terrorizing and robbing the inmtes he encountered. He then made his escape.

OLD SORES FED AND KEPT OPEN BY IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD

If Old Sores were due to outside influences, or if the cause was confined strictly to the diseased flesh around the ulcer, then external treatment and simple cleanliness would cure them. But the trouble is in the blood, which has become unhealthy and diseased, and keeps the sore open by continually discharging into it the impurities and poisons with which the circulation is filled. This poisonous condition of the blood may be the remains of some constitutional trouble; the effect of a long spell of sickness, or because the natural refuse of the body, which should pass off through the proper avenues, has been left in the system and absorbed into the blood. Again, the cause may be hereditary; but it does not matter how the poison becomes intrenched in the blood, the fact that the sore will not heal is evidence of a deep underlying cause. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., may cause the place to scab over temporarily, but the blood is not made any purer by such treatment, and soon the old inflammation and discharge will return and the sore be as bad or worse than before. S. S. S. goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, cleanses and purifies the blood, and makes a permanent cure. S. S. S. enriches and freshens the circulation so that instead of discharging unhealthy matter into the place, it carries rich, tissue-building, flesh-healing blood to the diseased parts and in every way assists in a natural cure of the sore. Some Points About Watches

There is no subject of such general interest as that of watches. They are not a luxury, but an absolute necessity, and the demand for better timepieces is constantly increasing. We make the study of watches a specialty and the satisfaction the many watches we have sold in the past 16 years is the best evidence of our success.

When you want a watch look over our stock and get the advantage of our experience. We can save you money and give you the best that money can buy. Visitors always welcome.

ANOTHER NEW YORK MYSTERY

New York, Nov. 2.—Facts and circumstances surrounding the sudden death at Bogota, N. J., last Sunday of Walter Fanneworth Baker, club man, Harvard graduate and member of a distinguished Boston family, who inherited several million dollars three years ago, has set detectives on an investigation.

Mr Baker died at the residence of Frank H. Hurd in Larch avenue, Bogota, where he had been taken in a motor car late Saturday night from a bed in Brown's chop house in Broadway, where he lay ill for an hour, declaring that he had been poisoned. It is not known that he said where, when or by whom. Baker asked that a physician be summoned, but under a mistaken idea that his illness might have resulted from the over indulgence in drink, it was decided that it would be best to postpone the calling of a physician until he had reached the residence of Mr Hurd, with whom he had been living for two years.

The investigation which had been instigated by Edward Baker, of Commonwealth avenue, Boston, a brother, took another direction simultaneously with the police work. It was in the form of an inquiry into the state of Mr. Baker's fortune when he died, how much he left and to whom he left it.

TALKS AND SINGS A SOLO

VOWEL SYREN BY PARIS SURGEON

Two Months Ago She Was Believed to Be Incurable—The Patients, It is Said, Learn to Imitate Sounds.

Paris, Nov. 5.—A striking demonstration of what modern science can do was given last week at the Academy of Medicine, when, in the presence of a hundred physicians, a girl of 20, who two months ago was believed to be an incurable deaf mute, sang a solo and later answered questions asked her by doctors in the audience.

She is one of four pupils of Dr. Marage, and exhibits in her accomplishments the good effects of his new system of training deaf mutes to hear and speak.

He uses in his practice a so-called "vowel-syren," an instrument commonly used by Paris professors of acoustics to amplify the volume of the human voice.

According to Dr. Marage cases of absolute deafness are exceedingly rare. By use of the vowel-syren, he says, the rudimentary faculty of his patients is rapidly developed, and at the same time they learn to imitate sounds and thus become able to speak.

"Whatever his degree of deafness," said Dr. Marage, "the deaf mute is susceptible of improvement if he can repeat what he hears. The young girl who sang and spoke has been under treatment only six weeks."

Mr. Marage, for many weeks, has been applying his method successfully in the asylums of Paris. His first public demonstration was that at the academy.

BAPTISTS IN SESSION

Assembled at San Antonio for Ministerial Conference.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 5.—Hundreds of ministers of the Baptist denomination from all over Texas are here today for the ministerial conference, preceding the general convention of the church, which opens Thursday. The Rev. Jeff D. Ray, of Waco, who has been chairman for many years, will preside over the conference. The principal matters to be brought before the general convention will relate to state, home and foreign missions and the educational institutions of the Baptist church in Texas.

Of these there are many, including Baylor university at Waco, Baylor Female college at Belton, Howard Payne college at Brownwood, Decatur college academy at Canada at Canadia and Goodnight college at Goodnight. All of these institutions are under the direction of the Baptist educational commission.

A report will also be made upon the Baptist memorial sanitarium at Dallas, which will soon be completed at a cost of $150,000. About 2,500 delegatees are expected at the general convention, and it is expected that the unofficial visitors will swell the number to at least 5,000.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N.Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

TIED TO MADDENED HORSE

Beautiful Girl Was Dragged to an Awful Death.

Cumberland, Wyo., Nov. 2.—Dangling at the end of a six-foot halter rope, the body of Miss Ruth Rowbottom, one of the most beautiful young girls of Cumberland, was dragged the full length of the main street of the town by a maddened horse. The body at length became disentangled from the rope. The girl was dead when spectators of the tragedy reached her side, nearly every bone in her body having been broken.

Miss Rowbottom undertook to hold a fractious horse for her brother-in-law, while the latter prepared a manger. She put her wrist through a loop in the halter rope, and when the horse became frightened and bolted the loop drew taut and she was unable to release herself before the hoofs of the galloping animal had beaten out her life.

FOUR STATES ARE DRY BY STATUE

Local Option Prevails in Many Others—Claimed That More Than One Half of Nation Is Under Prohibition Laws.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—With four states "dry" by statute, and local option prevailing in many others, it is said that more than half the nation is under prohibition laws.

Maine, North Dakota, Kansas and Georgia are the states where statutory prohibition rules.

The following statement of the conditions regarding the states where license and local prohibition exist in varying degrees, compiled by temperance advocates, is as follows:

Alabama—Majority of the counties dry, part of the others also. A county option law has just been passed, moving for state prohibition in the next two or three years.

Colorado—Local option law, 1907.

Delaware—Half dozen dry towns; state no-license campaign; vote on Nov. 5, 1907.

Florida—Thirty dry counties out of 45. Few saloons in the state. Move for state prohibition, led by Governor Broward.

Idaho—License. Sunday law only, passed in 1905.

Illinois—Probably 200 dry towns. Local option law, recently passed. Two dry counties.

Indiana—Three dry counties; 710 dry townships out of 1,016. Half of population in dry territory.

Iowa—Sixty-five out of 95 counties dry; 11 other counties have only one saloon town. Move for state prohibition again under way.

Kentucky—Ninety-seven out of 110 counties dry; only four counties entirely wet. Saloons close on Sundays.

Louisiana—Seven-eights of state dry. Orders may not be solicited or received in dry territory.

Maryland—Ten out of 23 counties dry, two nearly dry and two others where liquor is sold only in one place.

Massachusetts—Local option by cities and town, 250 being dry and 100 wet. Laws strict and well enforced.

Michigan—County option, with a few dry counties. If county votes wet it reverses dry vote in small unit.

Minnesota—License, with village local option; 1,123 dry municipalities. Sunday closing in entire state.

Montana—License.

New Hampshire—Nominally prohibition, modified by public sentiment. Trend is toward prohibiton; 62 per cent of populaton in dry territory.

New Jersey—Local option law.

New York—Town and township option; 300 dry towns.

Ohio—Out of 1,376 townships, 1,140 are dry, 60 per cent of municipalities dry, 350,000 people living in dry residence districts in wet cities. Connty prohibiton assured, probably at next session.

Oklahoma—There are 535 saloons in the state; part formerly in Indian territory has had prohibition for 21 years, and constitutional convention adopted similar provision to apply to entire state if so declared by popular vote on Sept. 17, 1907.

South Dakota—Large section of the state dry.

Tennessee—Saloons excluded from all but three municipalities in the state; state prohibition predicted in three years.

Texas—Two thirds of state dry by local option; state prihibition campaign under way.

Utah—License.

Virginia—Much dry territory.

Arizona—License.

New Mexico—License.

DURANDAL'S GOSSIP FROM GOTHAM

Singular Coincidences Prove That the World Is Really a Small Place—Instances Where Precedent Is Defied.

Hugh was engaged to Frances, writes "Durandal" from New York in the Cincinnati Enquirer. He was a traveling salesman and she a milliner. The difference in their ages was not great and their temperaments suited each other. Nothing stood in the way of their marriage, except that each had a past. Both desired to keep the past a secret from the other, and they took steps to secure the silence of their former sweethearts. Hugh went to his former girl, who said: "Don't worry about me. I am going to be married."

Frances received a visit from her former sweetheart, who asked her not to talk about him. Great was his surprise when Frances promised, and also told him that she was going to do the same thing. As a fact, each girl was to wed the former lover of the other. In the end the married couples met and became good friends. Fear and jealousies is unknown to them, and out of the past come fine futures.

When that story was told in a knot of Gotham gossipers some one suggested that it was too singular an incident to be credible. "Think how remote was the probability that two couples could be complicated like that."

"Was the coincidence more singular," said another, "than that of the millions of persons in New York and the thousands of cabs such an encounter as this should occur? Listen.

On the Box.

"For a quarter of an hour Morton had been waiting for a car. It was raining, but Morton was patient and smiled, thinking of the nice, cozy room and the pretty wife who was waiting for him. Just at that moment a hansom cab passed and splashed him with mud from head to foot. But it was not only that which annoyed him. In the cab were a man and a woman. He could not see the former, but in the latter he recognized his wife. He stopped a cab, and, giving orders to the driver got in. For about ten minutes he followed the hansom. Then it came into collision with a car. A wheel was wenched off and the occupants were obliged to get out. Morton alighted from his cab and pushing his way through the crowd, came face to face with—his boss, who was tenderly caring for his wife. What could he do? Visions of dismissal floated before him. A couple of hundred persons surrounded him.

"He went, smilingly, forward, saying: 'I saw your accident. Will you use my carriage which is right here'

"The two got in, and then the boss put his head out of the window. 'You can get on the box if you like, Morton.'

For Friendship's Sake.

Thereupon a third anecdote based on coincidence was told. It ran that Frank and Leopold were friends from their school days, and had often shared joy and sorrow. When their business separated them they wrote to each other often and thus kept up their relationship. Meanwhile Frank married a girl who charmed him by her wit and love of life. It happened that Leopold had occasion to visit the town where Frank was residing. They met in the street and celebrated the event by having a drink. Leopold said: "You could do me a great favor if you would, Frank. For the last few days I have become involved with a married woman, and now I want to get rid of her. She expects me tomorrow at a confectioner's. You meet her and make an excuse for me."

Frank, who had not lost all the love of fun of his bachelor days, willingly assented, and the next day found him at the appointed hour and place. What was his amazement when his wife entered, went up to him and drew back in astonishment?

"Wretch!" Frank exclaimed, "you expected to meet Leopold. I know it."

The young woman turned pale, then burst out laughing and gave her husband a box on the ear. "You scamp," she said, "did you also fall into the trap? I met Leopold accidentally, and, as he boasted of your superiority, we arranged this affair to find out if you would go in for an adventure."

Still puzzled, Frank followed his wife out of the store, and they went home together. When he went to look for Leopold the latter had departed, but to this day Frank is uncertain whether his wife's story is true or not.

His Word of Honor.

"Anyway," said a fourth fellow in the gossip group, "it is in traveling, naturally, that odd encounters take place most frequently. I was seated in a railway car when a man and a pretty girl entered, sat down in the next seat to me and aroused my interest. He was still young, but seemed to have lived his life; she was of charming appearance, and if it had not been for the wedding ring she wore would have been taken for a young maiden. The man did not seem to have much gallantry to spare for his traveling companion, so I was able to keep my eyes fixed on her. It happened that at stations where there was a long wait the man got out. I immediately began to pay court to the girl, and was encouraged. Then I exclaimed: 'If it were not for that man I swear I should make serious love to you.'

"On your word of honor?" she asked, roguishly.

"'On my word of honor.'

At that moment the man returned.

"'Listen, Ernest,' said the charming woman, 'this gentleman says upon his word of honor that if it were not for you I should be his.'

"I almost sank into the earth. How great was my surprise when Ernest said: 'I have nothing against the union, if it pleases my sister.'

"'Sister,' I said, 'what does that wedding ring mean?'

"'She is a widow,' explained the brother. 'She was only married a few weeks when her husband died, and I am glad she has found another already.'

"I had given my word of honor, so I wooed and married the young widow."

Was Filed Against the Missouri Pacific Railway Co.

Julia Fischer, through Attorneys Barnett & Barnett, Saturday filed suit in the Pettis county circuit court for $20,000 damages against the Missouri Pacific Railway company, and also asked that a restraining order be issued compelling defendant to cease permitting grease, oil, sewerage and other foul matter from the shop grounds entering Fischer's lake.

Plaintiff states that she is damaged in the above amount by reason of the fish in the lake being killed, and the ice in winter being in such a condition as not to be fit to take from the lake.

ASK PERMANENT PEACE

IT WILL BE HELD IN WASHINGTON

The Delegates May Be Induced to Attend the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress at Muskogee, I. T.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Plans to secure a permanent peace in Central America will be considered by distinguished delegates from the five republics interested at the conference to be held in Washington during the next few days. The invitation to hold the convention was extended by the governments of the United States and Mexico, and it is hoped the result will be to put a stop to the revolutions and wars which for many years have disrupted the Central American republics, enabling them to settle by arbitration any disputes which may arise.

The protocol providing for the meeting was signed by the Washington ministers of the five countries, including Senor Corea, for Nicaragua; Senor Calvo, for Costa Rica; Senor Mejia, for Salvador; Senor Toledo, for Gautemala, and Senor Ugarte, representing the provisional government of Honduras. Although each public will have several representatives only one vote will be allowed, this plan being the same as was followed at the Hague. It is hoped that the outcome of the deliberations will be to refer all disputes to arbitration, and, in this case, the United States and Mexico will probably be selected as referees.

Although Mexico and the United States are responsible for bringing about the conference, neither of the greater American republics will interfere with the conduct of the conference, and will offer advice only when asked. Acting Secretary Adee and Senor Godoy, the charge of the Mexican embassy, who conducted the preliminary maneuvering, believe that their work is ended with the bringing of the delegates together and providing them with the means of agreeing upon a treaty.

Among the distinguished delegates to the conference is Batres Jauregui, one of the best known statesmen of Central America, who for a period of ten years represented Gautemala, Salvador, Honduras and Nicaragua as minister to Washington. Mr. Jauregui, with Victor Sanchez Ocana, a member of congress and postmaster general, will act for Gautemala at the peace congress.

Efforts will be made to secure the attendance of the Central American delegates at the trans-Mississippi Commercial congress, to be held on Nov. 16 at Muskogee, I. T. Many important questions bearing on the relations of the United States with the Spanish-American republics will be thoroughly discussed at the western meeting, and many prominent Latin-American diplomats have already promised to attend and deliver addresses. The development of trade and commerce between this country and the republics of Central and South America has become a vital subject, and will be the principal feature of the coming trans-Mississippi congress.

The last session of the trans-Mississippi congress was held in Kansas City, and was rendered memorable by the delivery of Secretary Root's first speech, incorporating the conclusions deduced from his visit to South America in 1906. This utterance did much to awaken public interest in trade relations with sister republics, and the continuation and emphasis of the impression thus made will be the dominant note of the coming meeting in the Indian territory metropolis.

CIGAR DEALERS GIVE BOND

Those Whose Sabbath Comes on Saturday Discharged.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 5.—Twenty-one persons, against whom the grand jury returned indictments for selling cigars on Sunday, answered to Judge Wallace in the criminal court yesterday. They gave bond of $600 for the first and $200 bond for each succeeding indictment.

Mrs. Nellie Werbe, an orthodox Jewess, a dealer on Grand avenue, was the first to answer. She was discharged after a deputy marshal had told the judge that she observed Saturday as her Sabbath.

H. Harris, a grocer, was discharged because he observed Saturday, the Jewish Sabbath.

"How long have you been closing your store on Saturday?" the judge asked.

"Since you started the Sunday closing; about three weeks."

"Before that you remained open seven days in the week?"

"Yes, sir," the grocer said.

"That doesn't speak very well for your conscientious views on the Sabbath; but so long as you close and observe Saturday I am compelled to allow you to open on Sunday. You are discharged; but you must remain closed Saturday night."

FOUR COWHERD PETITIONS

Western Counties Favor Kansas City Candidate.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 5.—Petitions were filed with the secretary of state yesterday in favor of three candidates for governor. The first to be received was from La Plata, Macon county, for the nomination of Representative H. F. Stapel, of Atchison county. It contained forty-three names and was the first petition filed in behalf of Mr. Stapel. He was the first to definitely announce his candidacy. It is stated that Mr. Stapel will file most of his petitions at a later date.

Four petitions, averaging from seventy-five to eighty names each, were sent in for W. S. Cowherd, of Kansas City, as the democratic nominee. They came from Clay, Chariton, Clinton and Saline counties.

Dr. Alonzo Tubbs, of Gasconade county, noted for his hostility to giving tips, sent in a petition for Attorney General Hadley as a republican candidate, containing 157 names. A similar petition also was received from Gasconade county, containing 150 names.

FLORIDA LIQUOR ELECTION

People of Key West and Monroe County Voting.

Key West, Fla., Nov. 5.—In the local option election being held today in Key West and Monroe county the "drys" claim a victory.

Most of the saloons of the city have been closed for some time pending the result, as the licenses expired October 1, and the liquor men did not care to take out new permits until the question of prohibition had been decided.

DEATH OF JAMES HALL

(Sunday's Daily.)

Mrs. Rose Hall wired from St. Louis yesterday to Sedalia friends news of the death of her husband, James Hall, who died at 7.20 o'clock Saturday morning at the home of his parents, 4112 North Grand avenue, aged about 38 years.

Mr. Hall had been an invalid for several years, suffering with locomotor ataxia. He was born and reared in St. Louis, and prior to his illness was one of the crack baseball pitchers of the Mound City, he having once played with the St. Louis Browns when Charlie Comiskey was the head of the team.

"Jim," as he was familiarly called, knew every prominent personage in St. Louis, and he was known by them. He had a legion of friends and not an enemy.

His wife was formerly Miss Rose McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCormick, former residents of Sedalia, but who have lived in St. Louis the past quarter of a century or more. During his long illness "Jim" was tenderly nursed and cared for by his devoted wife, mother and sister, Miss Mamie Hall, who will have the sympathy of a legion of friends in their bereavement.

MONTANA MISSION MEETING

It Will Be in Session at Butte for Three Days.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 5.—What will probably be one of the greatest missionary conventions ever held in the west opens here today under the auspices of the Montana Methodist church, and will last three days.

Among the prominent speakers on the program are Bishop Edward Andrews, of New York; Dr. George Elliot, of Chicago, representing the board of church extension; Dr. A. B. Leonard, corresponding secretary of foreign missions; Dr. John F. Gouger, president of the Methodist women's college at Baltimore; Dr. C. B. Spencer, editor of the Central Christian Advocate; Dr. Thomas C. Iliff, of Omaha, assistant secretary of the home mission society, and many missionaries from foreign lands.

GETS A PRISON TERM

Youth Sentenced for Killing Man With Billiard Cue.

Pana, Ill., Nov. 2.—Ernest Sanders, 21 years old, was convicted by a jury in the city court yesterday of killing John Lundak, and his punishment was fixed at twenty-five years in the penitentiary. Sanders' attorneys have moved for a new trial.

On the evening of Dec. 10, 1906, Sanders struck Lundak with a billiard cue, causing his death shortly afterwards. Sanders set up a plea of justification under the "unwritten law" and of self-defense.

Mrs. Nancy Sanders, his mother, and his brother, Joseph, testified that when Sanders was absent from home one night several weeks before the killing they found Lundak with Sanders' bride in a room. Sanders lived with his mother and had been married but three months when he killed Lundak.

Sanders testified that his mother and brother had told him of this incident. He said Lundak had followed him and his wife on several occasions before and after their marriage. He pleaded that the immediate cause of the killing was that Lundak had attempted to stab him when they met in a billiard hall and quarreled on the night of the killing. Other witnesses refuted this testimony. Sanders' wife did not take the stand.

WAGES TO BE REDUCED

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 2.—Grand Forks, B. C., mine and smelter employes of the Grand Smelter company, had their wages cut 50 cents a day, commencing November 1. Word has been received from New York to this effect.

This will affect all the miners in the Phoenix camp, as the British Columbia Copper company and the Dominion Copper company will make a similar cut.

The Grand Forks Labor union will decide as to whether the men will accept the reduction or go on strike. Much uneasiness is felt over the situation.

HELD TO THE GRAND JURY

Joplin Man Accused of Mailing Objectionable Cards.

Joplin, Mo., Nov. 2.—Dr. M. H. Evans, a well-known physician, was held to the federal grand jury yesterday by United States Commissioner Keyton. City Physician F. E. Rohan, formerly, of St. Louis, was the prosecuting witness. Dr. Evans was released on $500 bond.

Dr. Evans is charged with having sent objectionable matter through the postoffice on cards provided for the convenience of physicians in making reports of births and deaths. One of these cards was addressed to "Quack Health Officer."

Dr. Evans admitted having written the cards, but contended that he had reconsidered the matter and that the cards must have been mailed by mistake. On one of the cards was written: "I said a year ago that I would report to anybody; now I report to nobody."

Dr. Rohan came to Joplin from St. Louis several years ago.

FACES MURDER CHARGE

Maryville, Mo., Nov. 2.— Charles McElvain, under arrest for the killing of Mrs. Mamie Molzahn at Ravenwood last Saturday night, waived preliminary hearing and was held to answer to the criminal court for first degree murder. McElvain is in the county jail here.

Mrs. McElvain is ill at her home in Ravenwood as a result of nervous shock. Mrs. McElvain is said to have made a statement to the effect that she believes her husband shot in defense of his own life and is innocent of any crime, but this could not be confirmed.

Dr. Molzahn is entirely out of danger and it is not thought that he will bear any permanent injury. McElvain was badly marked by the bullet from Molzahn's revolver, but is not in a serious condition.

LINDE OUT OF COUNCIL

AN INSURANCE WRITING COUNCILMAN ALSO ON ANXIOUS SEAT.

ANOTHER NASTY MESS IN ST. LOUIS

City Comptroller Thought the Law Did Not Apply to a Little Thing Like a Fire Insurance Policy

St. Louis, Nov. 2.—The indictment against Councilman George C. Linde was formally returned by the grand jury yesterday afternoon, and two hours later the council accepted his resignation as a member of that body.

The indictment charges that Linde committed a misdemeanor under section 2346, Revised Statutes of 1899, by being interested in a city contract while a city official. He gave $1,500 bond and was released.

Linde stated that when the subcontract for cleaning the house of delegates chamber had been secured by the R. A. Linde Carpet Co. from Doyle & Gahl, he had believed that as an employe of the carpet company the statute did not apply, as he merely acted as an aagent in selling goods to the city.

"I'm through with politics," Linde added, "but I hope to sell the city many a bill of goods."

Since the indictment of Councilman Linde there hasbeen much talk in the city hall and four courts over the fact that Councilman Albert R. Thomson was the agent for insurance policies on the four courts building and the garbage stables.

"It may be that this is a violation of the law," said Councilman Thomson. "When I wrote the policies I was assured by Comptroller Player that there was nothing to prevent my acting as an agent in the matter. I do not know yet whether I shall cancel or transfer these policies. As a matter of fact, I think an investigation will show that many other members of the council can be charged with the offense if I am guilty."

Comptroller Player said that until the present he was of the opinion that the law did not forbid a city official from writing insurance on city property.

"I called upon City Counselor Bates to ask him about the matter," said Mr. Player, being under the impression that he had already ruled that the law did not cover the case. To my surprise he told me emphatically that it was a violation of the law.

"Since I have been in office four members of the municipal assembly have had city insurance business. Besides Councilman Thomson, there were former Councilman Markham, and former Delegates Edgar E. Smith and Windmuller."

A resolution waas introduced in the house of delegates last night, providing that all members of the house or council who have been or may be indicted for bribery or malfeasance in office should be suspended. After a hard fight, the resolution was voted down, 19 to 3, with four absent and Delegates Warner and Priesmeyer, two indicted members, excused from voting.

AURORA LIQUOR FIGHT HOT

Business Men Waging Local Option Campaign.

Aurora, Mo. Nov. 2.—More than ordinary interest attaches to the local option campaign here, because Aurora is the largest town in the state in which the question has come up since the passage of the new law. Aurora is the center of the mining district, and if local option can carry here it will be a pronounced victory for the cause. The election will be held November 11.

The State anti-Saloon league has taken no part in the campaign, the fight for local option being made entirely by Aurora business men, comprising a committee of fifteen persons, who have never been identified with a temperance fight until this fall. Several have opposed each other in political campaigns. It is believed that local option will win, but the fight will be close.

DOGS TO GO TO CHURCH

ST. HUBERT'S DAY WILL BE CELEBRATED THROUGHOUT FRANCE TODAY

BENEDICTIONS TO BE PRONOUNCED

Prayers in Latin Beseeching That Animals May Be Spared From Hydrophobia, Mange, Worms, Snake Bites, Etc.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Paris, Nov. 2.—St. Hubert's day will be celebrated throughout France tomorrow, when, according to custom dating from the ninth century, setters, pointers, staghounds, bearhounds and beagles are permitted to enter churches, where benedictions will be pronounced, invoking the protection and good will of the patron saint for dogs of every description.

St. Hubert's day is still enthusiastically commemorated by the great sporting chatelains in La Vandee and Le Poitou by assembling their dogs in the chapels dedicated to St. Hubert, where the well trained animals are solemnly seated on their hind legs in front of the image of the saint, when the priest, in full canonicals, enunciates a Latin prayer, beseeching that the pack may be free from hydrophobia, mange, worms, disease, snake bites, wounds from bear or stag, and from all other evils or dangers to which canine flesh is heir.

Aside from these religious ceremonies, which are derided by a large majority of the atheistic French sportsmen of today, the more democratic masses decorate their shooting dogs with tri-color ribbons, and take them out in quest of stray rabbit, partridge or blackbird. In the evening of St. Hubert's day there is scarcely a marchand-de-vin in all Paris, or in any town or village of France, that does not hold a popular lottery for game of every description, ranging from stags to hares.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned administrator of the estate of Gusta Hinken, deceased, will make final settlement of his accounts as such administrator at the next term of the probate court of Pettis county, Missouri, to be begun and holden at Sedalia, in said county, on the 11th day of November, A. D. 1907.

HENRY HINKEN,
Administrator.

MISS CASTLE WAS HOSTESS

To a Company of Friends Thursday Evening.

The house was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and chrysanthemums and was lighted with jack-o'-lanterns. The evening was spent in playing various games, after which refreshments of chicken salad, potato chips, olives, wafers, pineapple ice and cake were served.

Quaint little souvenirs filled with candy were given each guest. Those present were:

Mary Malone, Leone Pehling, Ollie Fleming, Victoria Hoffman, Helen Sturges, Logan Fulkerson, Leonard Meyers, Bert Lawrence, Glen Palmer,

KILLED A HUGE SNAKE

Cut It Open to Find That It Contained Two China Eggs.

Bert DeVoll and "Bob" Carroll, street car conductors, who spent Friday hunting in the vicinity of Spring Fork, returned that afternoon with a good supply of game and also a star snake story, which each vouches for as gospel truth.

While searching for ducks they were stopped by the appearance of a blacksnake five feet long. They noticed two large "knots" or lumps in the snake, and immediately killed it to learn what it contained.

To their surprise, after cutting open the serpent, they found it contained two china eggs, which they are preserving as mementoes of the day's hunt.

Certainly Enjoyed the Show.

George B. Lamm, the Maplewood correspondent of the Capital, and a gentleman friend of his, witnessed "The Land of Nod" the past week as the guests of the editor of that paper, Mr. John J. Cundiff.

That Mr. Lamm appreciated the entertainment, and especially the antics and sayings of "April Fool," was fully attested the night of the show, but if further proof was necessary it was furnished in his last correspondence to the Capital, each paragraph of which concludes with, "Well, that's fair enough," one of "April Fool's" famous get-offs.

The Original

The idea of a Cough Syrup that will act on the bowels, and thus assist in expelling colds from the system is new and original in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. Nearly all other cough cures are constipating, especially those containing Opiates. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar moves the bowels, contains no Opiates.

Laxative

A certain, safe and harmless remedy for all Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, La Grippe, Bronchitis, Influenza and all Lung and Bronchial affections. Mothers praise the children's favorite, Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar.

TAFT BOOM NOT GROWING

ELMER DOVER MAY TAKE THE REIN

War Secretary Will Be Told That His Only Salvation Rests in New Leader and Getting a Move on Himself.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Because of the recent criticisms of the management of the Taft campaign for the presidential nomination, a statement was made here yesterday that Mr. A. I. Vorys will be relieved from his position at the head of the Taft promotion bureau and a new man put in charge.

While the dissatisfaction is attributed to the lack of enthusiasm in some states, and to the amateurish literature put out from the Taft headquarters, it is known, privately, that the president himself has expressed disappointment and chagrin at the way the Taft boom has been moving.

The president said recently that he felt moved to withhold reiteration of his decision not to succeed himself because of the interest in the Taft movement.

The caller with whom the president talked said the president indicated that if he took himself out of the question by another strong announcement, it would result in a number of the states indorsing candidates other than Taft and in a crop of "favorite sons," which would give no man a lead.

The president is reported to have held to the position that the Taft movement should have been so skillfully managed by the time Mr. Taft returned, and the president eliminated himself again by a reiteration of his previous statement, Mr. Taft would be able to gather in a great number of delegations waiting for the Roosevelt announcement.

Mr. Taft will be told on his return, as will his brother, Charles P. Taft, that if he hopes to take advantage of the apparent lead he has secured thus far, he will have to get some new men to look after his interests.

The only sugestion has been the name of Elmer Dover, secretary of the republican national committee, who already has indicated an intention to pass much of the winter in Washington.

TRAIN WRECKING CHARGED

Said to Have Placed Live Stock on Track.

Cameron, Mo., Nov. 2—Noah Jackson, of Keystone, and Cleve Harrow, of Osborn, both farmers of this county, have been arrested by Sheriff Meek, of DeKalb county, on grand jury indictments, charging them with killing animals and attempting to wreck a train by placing live stock on the tracks of the Quincy, Omaha & Kansas City railroad near Osborn, last December.

Ten head of mules were killed, but no one has ever claimed the ownership. Both the arrested men furnished bond. These cases will be tried at Maysville next February.

Jackson is the man who claimed he deposited $19,000 in the Farmers' bank, of Cameron, and who is now awaiting trial for the alleged forgery of his deposit slip in connection with the transaction.

Harrow was one of Jackson's witnesses in the civil suit of the bank against Jackson, which was tried in Clinton county in September.

First Meeting in 42 Years.

Mrs. Sophia Nelson, of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., and Mrs. Hannah Shafstall, of Hudson, Ind., who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Lyman B. Hall, for the past two weeks, departed for their respective homes Friday evening. It was their first meeting in forty-two years, and the reunion was a truly enjoyable one.

Was Four Score Years Old.

Mrs. Martha Wilcox, of Boone, Ia., mother of Mrs. J. D. Riddle, of Sedalia, died at her home in the Hawkeye state Wednesday, October 30, at the advanced age of 80 years.

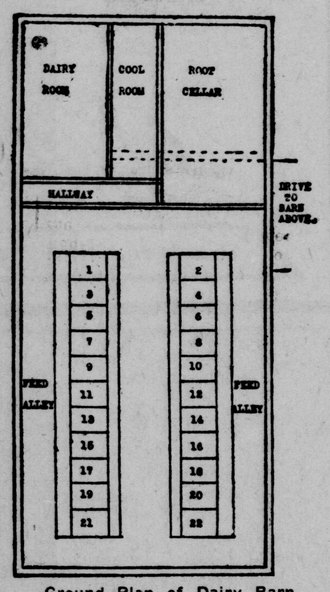

THE DAIRY

PLAN OF COW STABLE.

Building Which Will Prove Convenient and Sanitary.

The ground plan of a cow stable shown herewith was suggested to a farmer who desired to build a barn upon the side of the hill. The floor plan contemplates two rows of cows instead of one in the south, exposed end, of the building, and a root cellar, a cool room and dairy room separated by a hallway from the cow stable, in the back portion of the building and therefore in the bank. The plan further contemplates the placing of the icehouse above the cool room, and the root cellar so that, without moving the ice, a cool room adjacent to the dairy room can be provided, all under one roof. A driveway into the barn on the second floor is indicated on the uphill side, which would permit roots to be unloaded through the floor into the root cellar, hay and grain to be put into the barn above, and the ice into the ice-chamber, or the ice can be filled in from the outside if that is more desirable. With the icehouse over the cool room and root cellar a feed room can be provided over the dairy room, if that is desired. With such a plan the barn on the north end and on the east side would be entirely below the ground for the first story to the south of the driveway. The cow stable would be above ground so as to have easy access and abundance of light, and the hallway and dairy room would be ground far enough to give an abundance of light. The whole structure as planned would have dimensions 32 feet wide by 70 feet long, the root cellar being 13 by 22 inside. If less number of cows are desired the building may be proportionately shortened.

If it is desired to have all compartments named single story and the ice on the ground floor, the Rural New Yorker suggests that it might be better to adopt the same general floor plan, but to widen the back end of the building so as to drop the icehouse in between the dairy room and cool room and the root cellar so that one side of the icehouse could be brought against the cool room, and it would probably be better to make the floor of the dairy room and cool room far enough below the bottom of the icehouse so that the drainage from the icehouse and cold air from it can be taken into the cool room. The wall of the root cellar may be made common to the stable and the cellar and this portion of the wall need not be hollow, as the necessary warmth would be provided for by contact with the stable, so the wall between the root cellar and the cool room need not be hollow, but if the icehouse is dropped down so as to stand between the root cellar and the cool room the icehouse wall would have to be hollow all around except on the side adjacent to the cool room, which would need to be solid for its cooling effect on the room.

TREATMENT OF CALF SCOURS.

There are some interesting things in connection with that, for instance, with calf scours. Those side issues are being worked out very carefully. I might throw out this suggestion that if you have trouble of that kind with calves, one of the best things we have used and are using almost altogether with which to suppress outbreaks of calf scours, is a mixture of tincture of rhubarb, camphor and opiate, equal parts in hot water, about a teaspoonful. One of the most interesting recoveries I have ever seen was about three weeks ago in the case of a calf that scoured and was so near death the feet were stretched out cold and stiff, and there was every symptom of death. The calf was treated in that way twice, then was fed with raw eggs and milk occasionally and he recovered. He was the sickest calf I ever saw, so sick his hair all came off after a week or ten days, but he is one of the best feeders we have in the bunch to-day.

KNIFE OF THE "SLASHER"

FINGERS OF A WOMAN LAID OPEN

It Occurred on Principal Street, in Broad Daylight, and the Assailant Escaped Without Leaving Clew.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 2.—With every plain clothes man connected with the police and detective departments detailed in the down town section of the city with the view of capturing the "Jack the Slasher," the dastardly work of the fiend continues and grows more bold as the days pass, until it has reached a point where he operates in broad day light.

The latest victim is Miss Bessie Dickinson, the 18-year-old daughter of R. L. Dickinson, of 517 West Broadway, who was attacked between 10 and 11 o'clock in the morning at the corner of Fifth and Green streets, as the young woman was en route out Fifth street to her home.

Miss Dickinson passed a man just as she reached the intersection of the two streets, and without a word of warning he struck savagely at the young woman's right hip, the knife penetrating her right hand, which she was holding close to her body. Three fingers on the hand were laid open by the sharp instrument.

Miss Dickinson had been to the German Security bank for her father and was holding in her hand at the time of the assault the pass book of the bank. As soon as the deed had been committed the fiend darted down Green street and was soon lost in the crowd, as at the time there was not a man near the scene to give chase.

DIED FRIDAY NIGHT

(Sunday's Daily.)

Miss Irene Yunker, daughter of H. F. Yunker, a Katy engineer, and wife, died of heart failure at her parents' home, 721 East Ninth street, at 10:45 o'clock Friday night.

Miss Yunker would have been 18 years old had she lived until Feb. 7, next. Since infancy she has been an invalid, and for two years she has been bedfast.

The young lady belonged to no church, neither did she belong to any lodge or society. Besides her parents, she leaves two sisters and one brother.

Rev. W. F. Hamann, pastor of the East Broadway Christian church, will conduct funeral services at the house at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and friends desiring to view the remains may do so up to 1:30 o'clock. Interment will be in the city cemetery, and the following will serve as pallbearers: F. A. Spendiff, I. E. Melton, J. W. Storm, J. W. Hunnicut, Vic Kinsey and W. F. Norton.

ANOTHER FAMINE IN INDIA

A Drought, It Is Believed, Will Be Followed by Suffering.

Simla, India, Nov. 2.—It is believed that a famine is inevitable in the Delhi division and throughout a wide area of the provinces of Agra and Oudh.

An official statement issued estimates that the present drought is in some respects worse than that which prevailed in 1896.

Arrangements have been made for relieving the stricken districts and the operations are in active progress. Besides the sending of provisions fodder is being supplied to save the cattle from starvation.

SOAKED A MAN WITH OIL

THEN WHILE HE SLEPT A FLAMING TORCH WAS APPLIED TO CLOTHING.

THE END OF A DRUNKEN CAROUSAL

Several Gallons of Whisky Were Consumed, After Which William Hite Was Cremated Alive.

Cumberland, Md., Nov. 2.—State's Attorney Austin A. Wilson has begun an investigation of the death of Wilbur Hite, which ocurred a few days ago at Cresaptown, this county. It is charged that Hite was murdered and that his clothes were saturated with coal oil and deliberately set on fire.

Hite lingered several days after he had been discovered in an abandoned hut. During the time he lay in bed and up to within a few hours of his death he declared to his wife, members of his family and visitors that George Hershberger, aged 70 years, was responsible for his terrible burns.

He said that while he was on the floor intoxicated Hershberger saturated his body with coal oil, from the waist down, and, lighting a twisted piece of paper, set Hite's clothing afire. He had no burns on his body, hands or arms above his waist. The ante-mortem statement of Hite that oil was poured on him is accepted.

Hite and Hershberger, with Joseph Grant and John Skelly, all residents of Cresaptown, went to a deserted cabin on the Winchester road, a quarter of a mile below Cresaptown, where John Skelly is alleged to have had several gallons of whisky secreted.

All that night the men caroused, and are said to have become very drunk. Early the following morning the cries of one of the men, who had become partially sober, attracted passersby, who, upon, entering the cabin, found Hite. He was a mass of burns from the waist down and was suffering great agony. Every vestige of clothing had been burned off, and the flesh fell off the bones when the clothing was removed.

THE "BACHELOR" GIRLS

They Were Splendidly Entertainede by Miss Glover.

The Bachelor Girls' club was delightfully entertained at an old-fasioned party by Miss Olive Glover, of 1000 East Fifth street, Friday night.

On arriving at the home the guests were ushered into a spectral room to remove their wraps, and each guest was presented with the following rules, which were to be strictly observed during the evening:

1. Guests will please not sit on chairs.
2. Guests will please not whisper aloud.
3. Anyone making a sensible remark during the evening will be fined.
4. Anyone found sitting in a corner or not talking for five minutes will be given the part of a "spook."
5. No one will take leave until they arrive.

The guests, attired in old-fashioned clothes, then entered the parlor, which was beautifully decorated in autumn leaves, jack-o'-lanterns and candles. Forming a circle, the "bachelors' marched around the room, much to the enjoyment of spectators.

The hostess had secreted all the chairs, and those wishing to sit down sat on the floor.

Games of Hallowe'en were played and a special feature was the "witch's corner," where each guest had her fortune told.

The dining room was decorated in the club colors, and in the center of the dining table was a large pumpkin cut to represent a bowl, which was filled with ferns and cut flowers.

Stole a Pair of Trousers.

A Katy switchman from Franklin Junction, giving his name as Frank Haney, was given thirty days in jail by Police Judge Gresham Saturday afternoon for stealing a pair of new pants from Allen Chasnoff's store. He was arrested by Officer Robertson.

Now With the Dun People.

Ed Scott, son of W. S. Scott, ex-county collector, Saturday accepted a position with the R. G. Dun Mercantie agency.

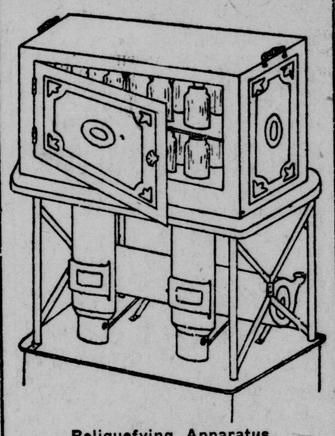

POULTRY AND BEES

LIQUEFYING HONEY.

How One Bee Keeper Manages to Keep Ahead of His Orders.

After my honey is put up in glass cans, it begins to thicken, and look milky, as soon as cold weather sets in. This takes place, generally, during September, and, long before winter begins, every can, if let alone, would be as solid as a rock, figuratively speaking. But I don't give it the chance, if I can help it, writes a correspondent of Bee Culture, for as soon as it begins to look milky, I begin to remelt it. It takes less heat, and it can be more quickly done at that time than later, after it has had time to become solid. This, too, seems to answer all the purpose, for it will generally remain liquid all through the winter after this one treatment.

We have over our kitchen stove a shelf that holds one dozen quart cans. With the common firing for family use honey placed on this will liquefy, ready for closing the can, in about 24 hours. It is very essential that every granule should be melted to prevent granulation a second time later on. I always unscrew the top of each can a very little when I expose the cans to the heat. This may not be necessary. Years ago I liquefied pound bottles in the same way without removing the corks, and it seemed to work just as well. However, I think it better to give the packages a chance to "breathe."

As long as I have liquid honey on hand to supply the market, I keep this shelf only occupied with cans, changing whenever necessary, but later on, when the markets begin to call more regularly for honey, the shelf is too slow. To keep ahead of my orders, I use a two-wick oil-stove with a sheet-iron oven. The latter accommodates two dozen cans at a time, and with blaze turned so low that the cans can be handled comfortably bare-handed at any time, two batches can be liquefied in a day. This gives me a liquefying capacity, including the dozen on the shelf, of five dozen a day, more than enough to keep me supplied.

BUYING BREEDERS.

Use Great Care in Their Selection If You Would Do Well.

During the fall season thousands of birds will change hands for breeding and show purposes. Great care should be exercised in their selection. It is much better to buy what you actually need than what you think you want. While there is a great deal of pleasure in rearing a bird that has won a prize there is far more pleasure and profit, says the Northwestern Agriculturist, in owning one that will produce winners.

If about to start in the poultry business, whatever else you do, get good stock. It is better to start with a trio of first-class birds than a dozen of inferior, or even mediocre quality. Buy a reliable breeder, whose strain is established, and keep this strain pure. Do not think you are economizing in buying cheap and inferior stock to start with.

It is advisable, when investing in the poultry business, to select the best specimens obtainable of the breed which is particularly adapted to the trade to which you are catering, and this selection should be very carefully made, since the future success of your business will depend materially upon the quality of your breeding stock.

Cramming Chickens.

A few years ago there was a great furore made over the newly invented "cramming machine," a device, as one man described it, "for making a chicken eat, whether it wanted to or not." It was discovered that the digestive apparatus of the chicken, however unimparable, could not stand the cramming process for long. Two weeks was found to be long enough, and for this length of time, the game did not pay for the ammunition. There is no better way than good feeding in the old-fashioned way.

Feed for Ducks.

Ducks do not easily digest whole grain, such as corn, wheat, etc., and consequently do better on a ration composed of mashes of ground grain, soaked turnips and potatoes, mashed, etc. If the yards are small, a drinking fountain for providing water is better than an open receptacle, as the ducks will then not be so apt to form muddy pools.

SUIT FOR $2000 DAMAGE

IN FACT, THEY'RE RIVAL BUTCHERS

(Friday, Nov. 1.)

A suit involving some of the best known and most prominent residents of Houstonia was filed by Attorney W. D. Steele in the Pettis county circuit court shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The plaintiffs in the case are M. T. Cook, H. C. and D. S. Brown, well known butchers of Houstonia, against Morgan Pummell, another well known butcher of the same place.

According to the allegations in the petition, the plaintiffs on Oct. 2, last, killed a fine beef and prepared the meat for sale. They commanded a liberal patronage at the hands of the meat-eaters of Houstonia, but, strange to say, were positively unable to sell any of the meat after a 40-cent roast had been sold.

The purchaser of this piece of beef returned it to the shop, claiming he could not eat it. After enduring this state of affairs for several days the members of the firm began to investigate, to learn why such a fine beef as the one killed could not be sold. Also to learn why their patronage had begun to fall off.

According to the petition, plaintiffs learned that Mr. Pummell, who it is claimed, was doing much less business than his rivals, had circulated broadcast the report that the plaintiffs had killed and were offering for sale a diseased and lump-jawed cow.

Friends of the plaintiffs, the petition states, verified the reports about Mr. Pummell's remarks, and yesterday the Messrs. Cook and Brown began proceedings in court, asking for $1,000 actual and $1,000 exemplary damages for injuries sustained by Mr. Pummell's reports.

Plaintiffs state that by reason of the false reports circulated by the defendant they were compelled to throw away a quantity of good meat, which otherwise they would have been able to sell.

(Friday, Nov. 1.)

Miss Ina Denny, a 19-year-old girl who makes her home with Mrs. Wright, residing on Sixth street, through Attorneys W. D. Steele and Mark McGruder, filed suit for $25,000 damages against the Sedalia Light and Traction company in the Pettis county circuit court this afternoon, for injuries alleged to have been received at the hands of defendant's employes.

According to the petition, Miss Denny was riding north on Ohio avenue on one of defendant's street cars, in August, intending to alight at Sixth and Ohio avenue. She alleges she rang the bell before she reashed Sixth street, but the motorman paid no attention and the car passed the street.

Just as the plaintiff was preparing to step on the ground, so the petition states, the motorman started the car, violently throwing plaintiff to the brick pavement and almost under the feet of a horse hitched to a passing vehicle.

Plaintiff was rendered unconscious and seriously injured by the fall and was removed to the drug company's store, where she was attended. For a number of days she was compelled to have the attendance of two physicians, by reason of which she asks for the above amount of damages.

Fishermen Return Home.

James Card, Eugene Hugenschmidt, "Dick" Baker and others, who for two weeks have been fishing near Fairfield, returned home Saturday, having caught a good supply of the finny tribe and thoroughly enjoyed their trip, in spite of the fact that "Jim," when he returned, wore a growth of beard that any officer would feel proud of.

Named as Acting Secretary.

Dr. A. J. Campbell has been appointed acting secretary of the Pettis County Medical society, vice Dr. Guy Titsworth, resigned, to leave Sedalia.
